CRASH NEAR BEACH
CITY KILLS WOMAN

Fatally injured when the car in which she was riding at Coast highway and Bolsa road near Seal Beach yesterday afternoon, assertedly was turned into the path of a truck, Mrs. Eva Warren, 66, Keosauqua, Iowa, became Orange county's 60th traffic victim of the year as she was being rushed to Community hospital, Long Beach, in an ambulance.

Seventy-two persons were killed during the same period last year. The car in which the victim was riding was driven by her husband, Joseph Warren, 60. They had been living at 1019 Sixth street, Santa Monica.

The two were proceeding easterly on Coast highway, according to police, and made a left hand turn onto Bolsa road. Warren is in Community hospital with undetermined injuries. The truck driver, Fred C. Ramsey, 34, 4721 Florence avenue, Los Angeles, escaped injury.

Inquest for Mrs. Warren will be held at the Huddell and Bonwell mortuary, Long Beach, tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. instead of at ar. Orange county funeral chapel since the death occurred in Los Angeles county although the accident occurred in Orange county.

PACE HOTTER AS CANDIDATES SWING DOWN HOME STRETCH

BY JOHN (SKY) DUNLAP
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Republican Walter Scott Franklin and Democrats Culbert Olson, Ellis Patterson, Sheridan Downey and Carl Kegley monopolized the political scene in California today.

These were among today's chief developments:

1. Dr. Franklin, candidate for lieutenant governor, was reendorsed by Progressive gubernatorial Candidate Raymond L. Haight in a radio interview last night. Haight declared Franklin was not a party politician, but a humanitarian and a liberal, having a background of progressive political ideals. Haight then withdrew from the governor's race for lack of funds, but backed Franklin instead of Patterson, the Progressive party nominee.

2. Olson, Democratic candidate

PAMPHLET LAWYERS WRANGLE

Supervisor Blasts Hervey

DOUSTER IS DEMANDED

Demand by Chairman Willard Smith that the county supervisors dismiss Attorney Edgar B. Hervey, of San Diego, as counsel for the board in the fee suit against Sheriff Logan Jackson, was laid before the board at yesterday's meeting, on the ground that Hervey's connection with a Los Angeles bribery case some years ago destroyed his fitness to represent Orange county.

"I opposed Hervey's employment in the first place, and I still feel that way," said Chairman Smith, in reading to the board quotations from an appellate court opinion on the Los Angeles case, which referred to Hervey's activities as the asserted medium for passing a $700 bribe to a Los Angeles officer, to "fix" a forgery case. The court opinion was rendered in the Channing Follette case, which also figures in the present local prosecution of defendants arrested in connection with the political pamphlet, "Fools Rush In."

G-Men Jail
Kidnapers

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(UP)—J. Edgar Hoover announced today that his department of justice agents had captured a gang of former convicts believed responsible for three kidnappings in New York. The kidnappings had not been disclosed heretofore. All the victims were adults; one was murdered.

Arthur Fried, missing since Dec. 4, was shot to death and his body burned in a furnace while the gang was demanding $200,000 ransom for his safe return, Hoover said.

Those seized were Joseph Stephenson, 27, Demetrius Gula, 30; John Virga, 34, and William Jackson, 27, all of New York. All had prison records for crimes ranging from counterfeiting to burglary and arson.

JURY BLASTS HOME CHARGE

Charges made against the conduct of juvenile court and juvenile home are unfounded, the county grand jury declared in a report of its special investigation, filed last night.

There is no starving or beating of children in juvenile home, as has been charged before the American Legion county council and in political speeches over the radio, the grand jury found.

Juvenile court has been operated according to law, with full opportunity for delinquents to present their cases, and decisions of the court have kept the best interests of the delinquent in mind, the grand jury ascertained.

Chamberlain
Urges Pact

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Great Britain intends to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and push through the British-Italian accord in the interests of general peace.

Asking approval of a motion welcoming the government's course, Chamberlain said:

"Let us put an end now to the idea that it is our desire to keep any state at arm's length. Let us remember that any advance towards removal of the possible causes of friction on one subject makes it more probable that we can deal with those remaining unsettled."

BRAND SEC WHITNEY REPORT AS UNFAIR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—J. P. Morgan & Company answered the Securities and Exchange Commission's criticism of Thomas W. Lamont and George Whitney today with the charge that the SEC report on the failure of Richard Whitney was "unfair and unwarranted."

The SEC closed its investigation of the failure of Richard Whitney's brokerage business with a sharp rebuke to Whitney's brother, George, and Lamont, both partners of Morgan & Co., for permitting the former president of the New York Stock Exchange to "hide his misdeeds behind an unwritten code of silence."

"HAM AND EGGERS" SUED BY KYNETTE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Appointment of a receiver and an accounting of the profits of the California Pension Plan, was demanded today by Earle E. Kynette, convicted "spy squad" bomber, in a suit filed against the $30-every-Thursday group.

Kynette, convicted of the near-fatal bombing last January of Harry Raymond, private investigator, claimed a one-third financial interest in the organization.

OHIO GOVERNOR IN WAR ON STRIKERS

MIDDLETON, Ohio, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The P. Lorillard Tobacco Co., whose plant here has been closed by a strike since Oct. 3, today obtained a court injunction against picketing by force.

Meanwhile, Gov. Martin L. Davey promised to send national guard troops here in case of strike violence, City Manager Walter J. Braun said the plant will be reopened Thursday under national guard protection.

"Rock's Bad Boys" Go On Trial

Charged with the murder of an Alcatraz prison guard, Royal O. Cline, these two "bad men of Alcatraz" are on trial for their lives in Federal court in San Francisco. James P. Lucas, left, and Rufus Franklin, right are charged with slaying Cline when he attempted to block their way to liberty in an abortive escape attempt.

GAMBLING IS NEW ISSUE

Attorneys for prosecution and defense wrangled their way through another session of the "Fools Rush In" hearing today before Justice Chris P. Pann in Santa Ana, as:

1.—Defense Attorney Carl Kegley, representing J. Malcolm Green in the criminal conspiracy charges growing out of the pamphlet, attacked Assistant District Attorney Preston Turner for blocking efforts to trace asserted gambling connections of Edgar Hervey, San Diego attorney representing the county supervisors in the fee suit against Sheriff Logan Jackson. Hervey was mentioned in a companion pamphlet.

2.—Testimony was given that three clippings from a Los Angeles newspaper's files, dealing with the Judge Channing Follette prosecution in Los Angeles 15 years ago, also mentioned in the companion pamphlet, disappeared from the newspaper's files within the past several months.

Who is "Col"?

3.—Attorneys argued endlessly over admission of testimony concerning the public's understanding of whom was meant in the pamphlet, "Fools Rush In" by the word "Col."

HUNDREDS THROG TO FIRST SESSION OF COOKING SCHOOL

As hundreds of Santa Ana and other Orange county women today thronged to the opening session of the Register-Southern Counties Gas company modern school of gas cookery at the West Coast theater, officials in charge prepared dozens of valuable prizes for distribution during the three-day event.

Mexico Sets
Immigrant Quotas

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—(UP)—New immigration regulations fixing quotas for immigrants desiring to enter Mexico in 1939 and granting preference to bachelors have been decreed by the interior department.

Spain, Portugal, Canada and the countries belonging to the Pan-American union were exempted from quota restrictions. A maximum of 1000 immigrants each will be accepted during the year from Germany, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Italy, England, Japan, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland. Other nations will be granted maximum quotas of 100 each.

Democrat Wins
GOP Talk Contest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The son of a Democrat held $1000 of Republican money today—first prize in the Young Republican National Federation's oratorical contest.

The winner was John Janson, 16, of Phoenix, Ariz., son of Harold J. Janson, an attorney who recently was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Maricopa county, Ariz., superior court judge. Son John stumped for his father during the campaign.

Set Rites For College Savant

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Harry Nash, 72, former associate professor of automotive mechanics at Washington State College, who died yesterday after a three months illness.

Survivors include two sons, Roy W. Nash of Buffalo, N. Y., and Ralph Nash of Manila, P. I., and a daughter, Mrs. Gladys Nash Kennett of Seattle.

FDR TO STUMP FOR BOURBONS IN BITTER NEW YORK BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—President Roosevelt leaves today for his New York country home to deliver a campaign speech and vote in next Tuesday's general election before returning to the capital next week.

An afternoon departure will put the Presidential train in Hyde Park, N. Y., well before dinner time. Mr. Roosevelt will ride into the hottest New York state campaign since 1928 when he led the home guard as Democratic nominee for governor to support Al Smith, the nominee for President.

German "Count"
Puzzles Officers

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Three government agencies sought today to dispel the mystery surrounding Gustaf G. Von Frick-Zu Brannenburg, 38, self-styled German count held in $40,000 bail on a charge of larceny of $30,430 from a Boston market man.

College Honors
Big Nosed Actor

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Jimmy (Schnozzle) Durante, who became famous by hot-cha-cha-ing up and down Broadway, was a little uncomfortable today under the responsibility of maintaining poise as a master of speech.

"I gotta be dignified," he said.

Navy Launches Ship Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The navy department, speeding President Roosevelt's arms program, opened bids on construction of three $5,000 ton battleships at noon today.

The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp., Quincy, Mass., the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Newport News, Va., and the New York Shipbuilding Corp., Camden, N. J., submitted one bid each for the construction of a battleship.

U. S. Starts War On Citrus Pest

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 2.—(UP)—A campaign to eradicate the white fly infestation which attack citrus fruits was launched here today by Works Progress Administration under state department of agriculture direction. It eventually will be extended to Tulare, Kings, Fresno and Madera counties.

SEEK IDENTITY OF RAIL VICTIM

Because a 50-year-old man, killed instantly yesterday afternoon by a southbound Santa Fe streamliner passenger train near Adele street, in Anaheim, has not been identified, an inquest scheduled for the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel, Anaheim, has been postponed.

This was the announcement today of Coroner Earl Abbey who is seeking relatives. It is believed the man was a transient. Fred Knight, 11, 705 Adele street, Anaheim, said he saw two men sitting on the track a moment before the train appeared.

Mystery Man Runs

"When I looked a second time, the streamliner was braking to a stop and the body of one of the men was lying 150 feet south of where I saw them sitting. The other man was running north on the tracks."

The mystery surrounding the death has not been solved and the man who disappeared when the train stopped has not been located.

Only about 33 per cent of the applicants for army air corps training pass both the physical and neuropsychic examinations. And of these only about 45 to 50 per cent have enough flying aptitude to get through the school.

MASONS FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE ATTEND ORANGE FETE

Masons from all parts of the state were present last night when the newly elected Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in California, Leon O. Whitsell of Burlingame, made his first official visit to a state lodge, Orange Grove lodge No. 293, Orange, of which he was worthy master in 1921 and of which he is still a member.

HEARING SET FOR ROBBERY SUSPECTS

Preliminary hearing for James Morgan Williams, Willis H. Walker and Rex F. Whittemore, charged with committing a dozen armed robberies in Southern California recently, including several in Orange county, was set today for next Wednesday at 9 a. m. Williams, 21; Walker, 24, and Whittemore, 20, appeared before Chris P. Fann, acting justice in Santa Ana, justice court today. Williams and Walker, who were appearing at their preliminary hearing, wanted to waive preliminary hearing but their attorney, Loren Smith, told them not to do so. Whittemore, who joined the ninth field artillery at Fort Lewis, near Tacoma, before his apprehension, faced arraignment today and signified his intention of employing an attorney. He was returned to Santa Ana only last night by Assistant Police Chief Harry Fink, Santa Ana, and Deputy Sheriff Tom Murphine. He confessed to two Santa Ana drug store robberies, police said.

A dinner at which Whitsell was honor guest was served at Orange Woman's clubhouse preceding the stated meeting of the lodge at the Masonic temple. J. J. Hutchins, worthy master of Orange Grove lodge, opened the session receiving the most worshipful grand master, and turning the gavel over to him.

Officers Serve

Former officers who served with Whitsell in 1921 served last night as officers of the lodge surrendering their seats. These officers were J. F. Rowley, senior warden; W. F. Feldner, junior warden; L. W. Thompson, junior deacon; W. E. Waterrow, junior steward; and H. T. Thomson, chaplain.

The gavel used by Whitsell in conducting the session was one presented to him by Masons of the 100th district which included Orange. The gavel is made of orange wood, has a band of gold and is hand carved with emblems of Masonry. The Orange lodge presented Whitsell with a list of names of lodge members which were signed with a handsome fountain pen, a gift from members.

Grand Senior Steward

Present with Whitsell was the grand senior steward, Lynn Harvey of Santa Ana; A. H. Allen, inspector of the 100th district; H. C. MacMasters of the 101st district; B. G. McLees of the 109th district of San Diego; Judge G. K. Scovel, worthy master of Santa Ana lodge No. 241; Frank P. Kibbey, worthy master of Laguna Beach lodge; Vernon Langenbach, worthy master of the Huntington Beach Masonic lodge, and Arthur Barthelmes, worthy master of the Anaheim lodge.

Mrs. Ernest Marr Hostess At Party

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Ernest L. Marr entertained with a Halloween party in the American Legion hall recently in honor of her son, Ernest. Games were played, with prizes going to Betty Noble, Ella Mae Rogers, Winifred Chaffee, Donald Olsen and Norman Ross. The table was prettily decorated with a Jack-o'-lantern and marigolds. Mrs. Marr was assisted in serving a dainty lunch by Mrs. Joseph Rojas.

Those present were Betty Noble, Lois Bradley, Helen Smith, Frankie Payne, Evelyn Miller, Dorothy Schneider, Winifred Chaffee, Jackie Scott, Gertrude Hanson, Mollie Doig, Ella Mae Rogers, Carol German, Norman Ross, Donald Olsen, Joseph Rojas, Kenneth Hoyt, Robert Monroe, Stan Barris, Billy Chaney, Robert Pallett, Bobbie Cozar, Dean Bettler, Elmer Humphrey, Glen Myricle, Ernest Marr, of Garden Grove, Barbara Mae and Carol Ann Brockie, of Los Angeles.

police news

Arrested on a petty theft warrant issued at Downey, A. S. Handy was taken to the sheriff's office where he provided $100 bail and was released to appear in Downey court November 7 at 10 a. m. Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart and Ben Sounce made the arrest.

George Cuthbertson, 19, was booked at county jail yesterday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshall Frank Besser on a charge he violated probation.

Oliver Pickett, Long Beach, yesterday forfeited $10 bail in city court after being ticketed for speeding. Judge J. G. Mitchell said. Thomas Shoen, Santa Ana, was fined $5 for boulevard stop violation and Clarence Swain, Santa Ana, $2 for double-parking.

Arrested by Santa Ana police last evening at Main and Fourth streets, G. A. Gage, 28, bartender of 409 East First street, was charged with drunk driving and being drunk.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—The Rev and Mrs. H. Rottmann have moved into their newly decorated home at 828 East Washington avenue, having purchased the residence from Mr. and Mrs. William L. Schaefer. The Rev. Mr. Rottmann is a retired Lutheran minister, and has been living in Orange for a month, coming here from Persia, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright and children of Los Angeles, were Sunday night guests of Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blasdel of North Glassell street.

W. A. Huscroft, 421 East Palmyra avenue, attended a meeting of Al Malaikah, Los Angeles Shriners, Saturday night.

Carl Bode Sylvester, six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Sylvester, of Colton, will be baptised by his grandfather, the Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church, at Sunday morning services. Mrs. Sylvester is the former Cornelia Bode.

Orange Girl Reserve leaders will attend Girl Reserve leaders' workshop at Pasadena Friday afternoon and evening. Attending will be the Misses Suzanne Clark, Helen Goetz, Florence Boosey, Eldred Watson, Bernice Williams, Margaret Mansur, Barbara Robinson, Peggy Seba, Shirley Wade, Helen Goetz, Florence Boosey, Mrs. Pauline Kinner and the Y. W. C. A. secretary, Mrs. Charles Robinson. Attending Saturday morning will be two high school teachers, Mrs. Nelle Heiser and Mrs. Margaret Spaulding.

MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH

Yesterday's rain was blamed for at least three automobile accidents on Orange county highways, and Floyd Jones, 45, Costa Mesa, was in Santa Ana Valley hospital in serious condition as result of one of them.

Jones' car went out of control on Newport road between Baker street and Pálsades road yesterday afternoon and struck a power line pole. Jones suffered fractured skull, compound fracture of the left leg and other, undetermined injuries. He was rushed to the hospital by the Orange County Ambulance service.

Minor accidents, according to the California highway patrol, occurred on 101 highway near the Orange County Athletic club between Santa Ana and Anaheim, and at Katella road and Ninth street, near Anaheim.

Open Pre-School Nursery Monday

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 2.—Next Monday has been set as the opening date of the new pre-school nursery which is being organized by local mothers under the leadership of the P.-T.-A. All children above the age of two but too young for kindergarten will be welcomed by the new organization, which will be directed by Mrs. W. F. Wright. Sigler park will be used as a playground for the children, the Scout cabin being used in bad weather and for the housing of playthings. Anyone having toys to donate is asked to deliver them at the park on W after the above date.

The hours will be the same as those of the kindergarten, children being returned to their homes in time for lunch and afternoon naps.

A special meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church at 3:30 a. m. tomorrow for mothers wishing to enroll children in the pre-school group.

The latest rear-view mirror works on the periscope system. The image is caught over the roof of the car instead of through the rear window. It is said that this arrangement gives the driver a wider range of vision.

Tells Them How

"Just like that!" Business Economist Roger Babson explains with gestures his theory that unemployment would vanish in six months if capital, labor and distributors allowed interest, wages and prices to find "natural levels" instead of pegging them artificially. Mr. Babson is pictured at the Babson Institute, Wellesley, Mass., where he made his argument.

Bandits Trapped By Victim

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Albert Nelson, 36, adopted an unusual method to escape being robbed.

As Nelson walked along a street, a youth demanded his money at gunpoint. Nelson told the youth he had no money but suggested they have a drink at a nearby taproom.

The bandit accompanied Nelson to the taproom and, after having a drink, Nelson managed to notify police.

Two patrolmen met Nelson and the youth as they left the cafe.

BALLET CARAVAN WINS WIDE ACCLAIM

Hailed as one of the outstanding dance troupes of the country, the all-American Ballet Caravan will be presented at the Santa Ana high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. next Wednesday by the Orange County Concert Series.

The New York dance troupe will present three of the most interesting of the ballets on its repertoire.

In Santa Ana. Patrons in this section will see "Billy the Kid", "Filling Station", and "Air and Variations".

How It Organized
Lincoln Kirstein, the director and founder of the Ballet Caravan, believed that the ballet as presented in this country was merely a borrowed and stereotyped European art. So, gathering about him American dancers, musicians, artists, and designers, the Ballet Caravan came into being as an American achievement upon the international dance scene. The Caravan combines the best features of the old style with American themes, which receive distinctive native treatment. The Ballet Caravan's popularity is due to their freshness of approach and fine balance maintained by the company in its personnel and above all to their twentieth century selections of themes and music. Their scores were especially written for them by contemporary composers of the top rank, and all of their original music has been played during the past two seasons by some of the country's leading orchestras.

Unidentified Woman Buried In Potter's Field
The body of an unidentified 50-year-old woman, found floating in the ocean at Sunset Beach more than two weeks ago, was buried yesterday in a "potter's grave" at Westminster Memorial park by Dixon funeral chapel attendants of Huntington Beach.
A possible victim of murder, the woman was found in the surf at Sunset Beach clothed only in a green bathing suit with white stripes. A severe blow on the head and a hole in the corner of an eyelid led authorities to believe the woman might have been slain. However, she may have received the injuries in a fall, it was announced. More than 50 persons saw the body before its burial. None knew her.

Fundamentals of Democracy at Stake Nov. 8

Diametrically opposed attitudes toward Government and its functions are represented in the Nineteenth Congressional district campaign being waged by C. T. Johnson and Harry Sheppard.

From their public statements one man visions the position of Congressman as an opportunity to serve ALL the people of his district. His opponent sees the office as a party job and little else.

In a public meeting at San Bernardino July 11, 1938, Mr. Sheppard said:

"Let's be Democrats first. Let's be Democrats second. Let's be Democrats third. To Hell with the other fellow."

"You may think this is a strong statement but it is just how I feel."

Voters will have no quarrel with Mr. Sheppard for so candidly presenting his somewhat Tammany-esque philosophy of public service. Rather they will applaud the frankness of the assertion from a Representative seeking reelection ON HIS RECORD. Those two little paragraphs tell why 4,500 protests against the Dictator bill were turned aside so airily by the incumbent.

Now turn to the other side of the picture. Mr. Johnson, who opens his address to the voters with the phrase "Fellow Americans" is on record as to his conception of the office both men seek.

Mr. Johnson, in his platform, says:

"Freedom of speech, Freedom of the Press, and the right to worship as you please are protected by the Constitution. All these were threatened—and could have been destroyed by our rubber stamp legislators—but were preserved by statesmen who place flag above party. I pledge I will typify these Americans—by being independent in thought and decision, and an impartial representative of ALL our citizens."

Not with boastfulness but in reverent humility Mr. Johnson announced his acceptance of the Grass Roots convention nomination when he said, "Whatever measure of success I have had, I attribute to my parents because of the early spiritual training they gave me which has been the basic guidance throughout my life."

The issue is clear. Each candidate has had his say. A group of your neighbors have made their decision. They feel, if you believe a Congressman should be beholden to the folks at home rather than to some party whip at Washington, you will want to stand with them. They have formed the Committee of Ten Thousand. Its membership is open to all irrespective of party. Enrollments are being taken at the Johnson-for-Congress headquarters in each county.

SYMPHONY CONCERT PLANNED FOR NOV. 17

Rising to new heights in popular appeal and orchestral attainment, characterized by dash and verve in its concert of Oct. 20, an unprecedented performance which was attended by nearly 800 persons, the federal symphony orchestra shows promise of eclipsing its recent triumph when it plays again Nov. 17 at the high school.

This was predicted today by Leon Eckles who is again to conduct the federal musicians in a program that will stress as the concert highlight the Brahms Symphony No. 2 in D Major. The overture to "Abou Hassan," by Von Weber, and Tchaikowsky's "Italian Caprice" are also to be performed.

Sunny Score in Prospect
"After the heavier symphonic scores of the Russian masters, often suffused with savagery and gloom, and which the orchestra by popular demand has been called upon to play in recent concerts, the ineffably tender, sunny score of the Brahms masterpiece will be found highly acceptable to audiences who prefer melodic beauty and charm—the 'light-hearted note' in their music," Eckles commented.

The program will be further enhanced by the guest appearance of Olive Eleanor Schweitzer, 16-year old pianist, an announcement which will be welcomed by the county's music lovers. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schweitzer of this city, the promising young artist needs little introduction to local audiences, having been heard in numerous recitals here since first disclosing her talent at the age of seven. Eckles announced Miss Schweitzer will play Cesar Franck's "Symphonic Variations."

Stage Work Set For Legion Fetes

Ten acts of vaudeville have been secured by Elmer Sullivan for the first series of pot luck dinners of the American Legion of Santa Ana, and its auxiliary that will be held at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Legion hall, according to Commander Glenn Cave.

The entertainment, originally scheduled for November 10, was moved ahead one week to avoid conflict with Armistice Day observances, an dromises to be one of the outstanding Legion events of the year. Mrs. Harriett Mitchell is in charge of the auxiliary's activity in the affair.

Legionnaires and their families are invited to attend the "party" and are requested to bring a pot luck contribution to the dinner.

Arrange Funeral Of Anaheim Man

ANAHEIM, Nov. 2.—Funeral services for Frederick A. Baumgartel, 69, who passed away following a brief illness Monday, will be held from the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. A native of Germany, Mr. Baumgartel had lived in Anaheim for the past 27 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Freda Baumgartel; five daughters, Mrs. Grace Ocker, Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Louise McDonald, San Gabriel; Mrs. Ruth Hester, Pomona; Mrs. Lucille Bruns, Orange; and Miss Eva Baumgartel, Los Angeles, and 11 grandchildren.

The Rev. Stanley George of the Anaheim Presbyterian church will officiate. Entombment will be in the Loma Vista mausoleum near Fullerton. Graveside services will be in charge of the Odd Fellows' lodge of Los Angeles.

STUDY CLUB MEETS

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—The monthly meeting of the Mothers' Study club was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Leslie Wright. After the reading of a paper on "Child Welfare" by Mrs. Victor McClain, tables were arranged for games of bridge. First prize went to Mrs. John Ward and second to Mrs. Victor McClain.

Refreshments were served on the dining room table to Mrs. John Kraushaar, Mrs. Rodney Collins, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Victor McClain and Mrs. H. Louis Lake, a guest.

A patent was issued recently to the inventor of fuel tanks shaped like wings that could be towed along behind the plane by means of a flexible hose connected to a gasoline pump. When the tanks are empty, they are released and glide to earth, undamaged.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

FROST WARNINGS WILL GO ON AIR NIGHTLY AFTER NOV. 15

Warning of frost will be broadcast nightly starting November 15 over stations KVOE in Santa Ana and KHJ in Los Angeles at 8 p. m.

This was the announcement at a complimentary dinner held recently in Orange for Harold Rathbone of La Habra, who has completed 15 years of service with the fruit-frost survey division of the U. S. weather bureau.

Organize For Protection
Experts estimate that the frost broadcasts have saved ranchers millions of dollars in past years and are high in their praise of Rathbone's service. When radio broadcasts of approaching frost are made, ranchers are enabled to organize for smudging and ward off the damage to the citrus crop.

Among those present at the dinner were Floyd Young of Pomona, government meteorologist; Fox Case of Tustin, manager for west coast system of the Columbia coast of the Columbia Broadcasting System; and Ross Shafer of Tustin, program chairman; Dixon Tubbs, county horticultural commissioner; Ralph Hull, vice president of the Orange county farm bureau, and Farm Advisor Harold E. BUENA PARK, Nov. 2.—The Lindbergh P. T. A. will sponsor an art exhibit of modern artists November 7 to 11, all day Thursday and evening at the Lindbergh school. One hundred fifty pictures will be on display. Children will be admitted free. Friday evening a get acquainted party will be given for parents and friends of the P. T. A.

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action at the same time help to keep you regular. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are harmless. Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All drugstores.

NEW HUDSON ON DISPLAY

Three new lines of cars featured by entirely new styling and many important engineering changes are presented by the Hudson Motor Car company for 1939 and are now on display by H. C. Collins, sales and service, 113 North Sycamore street, Hudson dealers for Santa Ana.

They are the Hudson 112 in the lowest price field with 86 horsepower and an overall length of 137 7/8 inches; a new Hudson six above the lowest price field with 96 horsepower and an overall length of 137 1/16 inches; and in the moderate price field a new Country Club sedan with both six and eight-cylinder motors giving 101 and 122 horsepower and an overall length of 139 inches; plus a special eight-cylinder Custom Sedan with 206 inches overall length.

As an instance of the lowered cost to the 1939 buyer for the kind of a car he wants, equipped as he wants it, Collins cited the fact that even the 1939 Hudson 112, in the lowest price field, has 27 items added to the standard equipment of the car which were not on last year's models. These included such important 1939 standard equipment as the new "Handy Shift," fenders to match the body color, larger tires, bumper guards front and rear, Hudson's exclusive auto-poise control and dash-locking hood, carry-all luggage compartment and headlight beam indication.

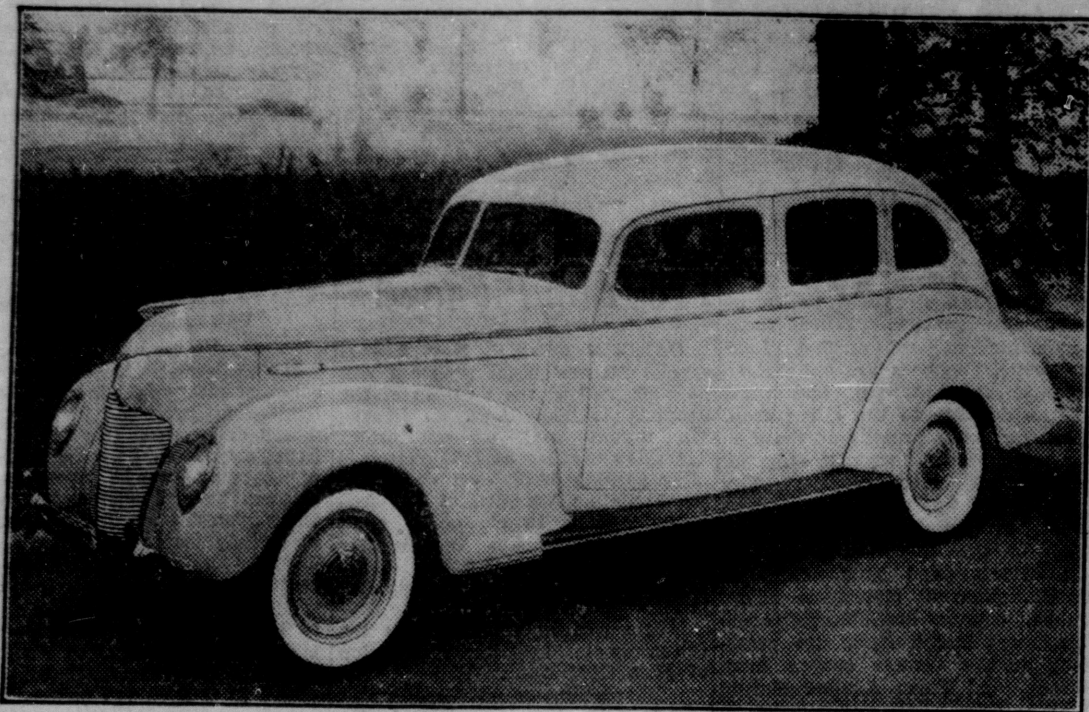

There are seven body colors available at no extra cost, four of which are opalescent, an exclusive feature in the lowest price field.

New Styling

In addition to the new styling, the new lines of cars are the most luxurious in Hudson's history. The treatment of the front grilles particularly is such that the car is given a modern, low, long, sleek appearance. Hudson sixes and Country Club models have die-cast center grilles and two die-cast grilles in the cat-walk section with head lamps mounted flush in the front fenders. Parking lamps on the Country Club series are at the front extremity of the belt moldings on the side.

New Hudson Country Club Sedan Shown Here

The 1939 Hudson Country Club sedan for six people, shown above is one of three new car lines being featured by the Hudson Motor Car company in announcing their 1939 presentations. Information about the new Hudson as well as demonstration of the new car may be had at the H. C. of the hood, giving a distinctive ornamental touch.

Important engineering refinements which materially improve riding comfort, safety, roadability and general performance characteristics have been introduced. Outstanding among these developments is the entirely new ride resulting not only from an important advancement in chassis stabilization known as auto-poise control, but also from the introduction of the airfoam seat cushion which is standard equipment on the entire Country Club series and all convertible models, and optional in Hudson 112 and Hudson six closed cars.

Telescope Viewers To Hear Lectures

The 60-inch telescope on Mt. Wilson is open to visitors on Friday nights and at that time lectures are given. Tickets for these lectures must be obtained at the office of the Mt. Wilson Solar Observatory, 813 Santa Barbara street, Pasadena.

The same night lectures are given at the Mt. Wilson hotel, where persons can view the 12-inch telescope, and afterward see the 60-inch telescope at the observatory. No tickets are necessary for the lecture at the hotel or for viewing the telescope, according to a bulletin from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

ADMINISTRATORS MAKE PLANS FOR UNIFORM TRAFFIC LAWS

SACRAMENTO—State Director of Motor Vehicles Ray Ingels said today ground-work had been laid for a nationwide program to sponsor uniform traffic legislation and enforcement.

The director recently returned from the national convention of motor vehicle administrators in Detroit.

Ingels declared the directors he spoke with are solidly behind a program for uniformity "through cooperation of administrators and enforcement chiefs with state legislative bodies."

Proposed minimum standards for driving licenses are also being urged by the association, Ingels said, explaining:

"In our mutual consideration of legislative problems it was recommended to the association that the membership move forward steadily toward the establishment of minimum driving license requirements to the end that we may establish concrete testing essentials which in all states, will determine the competency of automobile drivers."

"The membership of the association definitely recognize that the driving license is one of the essential means by which we can promote highway safety but, to make driving requirements adequate, they must be uniform—at least as to minimum standards."

PACKARD HAS FOUR LINES

Four complete lines of cars with 33 body models, not including custom and special purpose cars, are offered by Packard for 1939, according to R. W. Townsend, of Townsend Motor company, local Packard dealer. One line is completely new and gives Packard a new price class, better balancing its product with a market extending from just above the lowest price to the top figures.

There is the Six, the 120, also known as the Packard Eight, the Super Eight and the Twelve. The Super Eight is a completely new car. It replaces the larger and heavier Super Eight of 1938. It is declared to have the same fine car luxury and big car comfort of its predecessor. However, it is shorter and considerably lighter. Equipped with the big straight eight motor used in the Super Eight line of 1938, improved in many respects for the new car, the new Super Eight is said to have gained much in performance and should, say engineers, have even longer life.

Characteristics Maintained
Reduction in price, coupled with the many improvements in the car itself will, Packard executives believe, result in a greatly broadened market for the new Super Eight line.

True to its tradition of so maintaining, basically, the well known hood and radiator lines of its cars that any Packard, since 1904, is instantly to be identified, all of the 1939 cars have the characteristically Packard appearance.

Mechanical improvements on all four lines of cars would form a long list and there are many refinements in body details and fittings, both from the standpoint of comfort and appearance. The Six, 120 and Super Eight are fitted with a new system of shifting gears. Changes from one speed to another are made with a small lever conveniently located on the steering column just under the steering wheel.

"Econo-Drive" is the name Packard has given to a new fourth speed, or overdrive. It is automatically actuated by simply depressing and releasing the accelerator pedal. Econo-Drive is available at low extra cost on the Six, One Twenty and Super Eight. Chief advantages claimed for Econo-Drive is that it reduces engine revolutions 27.3 per cent, saving greatly in motor wear and increasing fuel economy as much as 20 per cent. Oil economy is said to

DE SOTO HAS PREMIER HERE

Bigger, wider and roomier than any previous De Soto ever built, the new De Sotos for 1939, on display today at the H. A. Baldwin Motor company, Sixth and Broadway, local De Soto dealer, are packed with ingenious new engineering style and comfort features.

A new "Handy-Shift" that shifts gears right from the steering column; a new Safety-Signal speedometer that acts like a "silent policeman"; electric windshield wipers; five speeds forward with a new automatic overdrive; a new ride formula; wide-range safety headlamps; and a new streamlined luggage locker that says "goodbye" to old-fashioned trunk "bustles" are but a few highlights of the new De Sotos shown here.

Streamline Styling

The smooth flowing contours of De Soto's new streamline styling sweep back in one unbroken line from the gleaming, chromium radiator grille to a completely concealed luggage locker in the rear. The old-fashioned trunk "bustle" is gone, yet the new luggage locker in sedans has 23 cubic feet of usable trunk space, 27 per cent more than the big trunk on the 1938 De Soto models. The luggage deck of the coupes has 48 cubic feet of usable space; it is almost six feet long and five feet wide.

The 1939 De Soto body has been made four and one-half inches wider across the front compartment. The wider sedan body provides ample room for six big people to ride in comfort, both front and rear seats being as wide as living room sofas. The wider coupe body insures plenty of room for three large people.

Hood Is Longer

The traditional De Soto grille of horizontal chromium bars has been retained in a completely new treatment, which includes the addition of two grilles of horizontal chromium bars beneath the jewel-like main grille. Wide-range safety headlamps have been faired into the big, massive front fenders. Both front and rear fenders are of a new design. They have a forward motion, adding speed and action to the lines of the body.

The length of the hood has been increased, stretching 55 inches from the tip of the radiator shell to the big, V-type windshield. The full-view windshield is both higher and wider; the increased height making it possible for drivers to see overhead traffic lights without craning their necks. Safety-glass area in the new body design has been increased all around to provide greater visibility for passengers as well as driver.

The extent of design changes and improvements in the 1939 De Soto indicate the lengths to which the Chrysler corporation has gone to stimulate new car buying. As a part of Chrysler Corporation's $15,000,000 program for new dies and retooling of 1939 models, several million dollars were spent on the new De Soto body alone.

Every Motorist Drives Four Cars

"Cannonball" Baker, noted record-smashing driver, gives valuable pointers worthy of consideration by all motorists, states the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

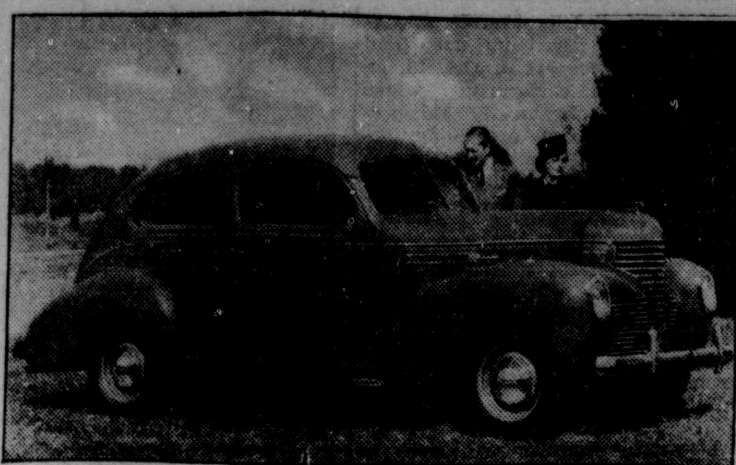

"The smart driver these days is not proud of how fast he can drive but how safely," says Baker. "The smart driver realizes he is driving four cars—his own, the car behind him, the car ahead, and the car he can't see around the corner. Any of the four can get him into a jam, and he allows for all of them."

"The average man's reflexes are not fast enough to handle the top speeds of today's automobiles. When the pinch comes the average driver finds the car is driving him, and not the other way around."

be improved to an even greater extent.

A button on the dash can make Econo-Drive available for operation or lock it out of service. A newly developed control feature permits changing instantly to third speed for quick acceleration or hill climbing by simply depressing the accelerator pedal.

1939 De Soto Has Premier Here

With a gleaming front end of horizontal chromium bars and a completely restyled body, the new De Soto for 1939 is outstanding in appearance and design. Available in two different lines—the Custom and the De Luxe—it includes among its many features a new Safety-Vision Windshield, Wide Range Safety Headlights, a new ride formula, a streamlined luggage locker and increased roominess. Pictured above is the De Soto 3-door sedan. The new De Soto is on display today at the Henry A. Baldwin Motor company, Sixth and Broadway.

Studebaker Head To Attend Parley

Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation, is a member of the committee cooperating with the Purdue Research foundation to plan the annual industrial research conference at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana, November 17 and 18. Purpose of the conference is to bring together industrialists and men engaged in research.

According to estimates, there are 2,750,000 motorcycles in the world; 85 per cent of these being in Europe.

Cushion For Back Is Important As Safety Factor

While many drivers consider the back cushion merely a comfort item, qualified experts point out that it is also a very important safety item in the modern automobile according to Murray Rosenfeld, general manager of the Pep Boys of California.

"Experts," stated Rosenfeld recently, "have reported that driving fatigue is responsible for many serious accidents. A tired driver becomes less alert and acts much slower in an emergency."

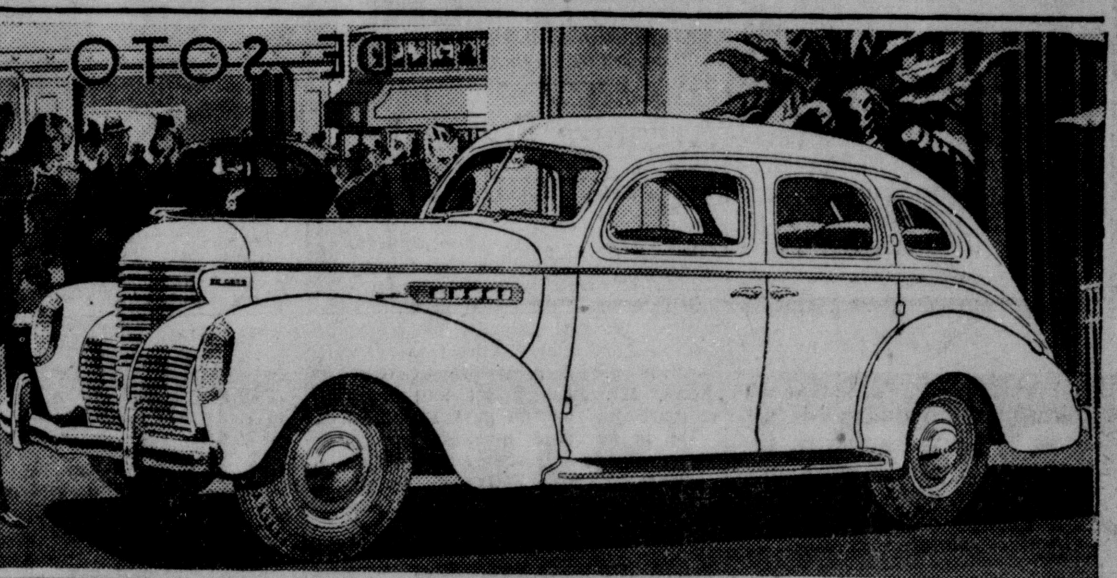

"When you become tired you should stop and rest. But remember that much of this fatigue could be overcome by simply correcting your posture with a back cushion. A back cushion will prevent you from slumping in the seat. A slouched position is very tiring because it reduces your oxygen intake, thereby causing faster than normal fatigue."

The local Pep Boys store, 211 N. Main St., always features such popular items as the back cushion and hundreds of other auto accessories and parts.

NEW SOIL POST FOR CROCHERON

Appointment of B. H. Crocheron, director of agricultural extension service in the University of California, as one of three administrators of the California Soil Conservation Districts act, was made today by Governor Frank P. Merriam, according to word received by Alex Johnson, secretary of the California Farm Bureau federation.

Sponsored by Bureau
The measure, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, and passed by the special session of the legislature early this year, provides that the two other members of the committee which is to administer it shall be the dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of California and the state engineer.

The act declares a state policy relating to soil conservation through prevention or control of soil erosion, and provides for cooperation with the federal government in maintaining soil resources.

"So large is the interest in this legislation," Johnson said today, "that 10,000 copies of the act have been obtained by us through its author, Assemblyman John H. O'Donnel of Yolo county, for distribution throughout the state."

Huge Losses Cited

Johnson pointed out the losses in natural resources, from soil erosion, are running into staggering figures not only in California but throughout the United States.

"Depletion of this natural wealth," he said, "unless checked by proper soil management practices, will result in serious consequences, as attested by experiences of other countries."

Pre-View of War-Made In Germany

How German infantry will combat attack from the air is graphically shown in this scene from a recent German motion picture. BOURBONS PLAN FOR RALLY ON SATURDAY

Democrats of Orange county will climax their campaign Saturday night with a county-wide rally at 7:30 o'clock in the Santa Ana high school auditorium.

Plans for the meeting are being completed by J. Wayne Harrison, county campaign manager for the Democratic party, and will introduce four speakers. Topping the list will be J. Frank Burke, former Santa Ana newspaper publisher, who will talk on behalf of the candidacy of Sen. Culbert L. Olson, Democratic nominee for governor; Ellis E. Paterson, nominee for lieutenant governor and Sheridan Downey, for United States senator.

Others on Program

John Gee Clark, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee, will talk on party ideals and in behalf of the entire party ticket. Carl Kegley, write-in candidate for attorney-general, authorized by the state central committee, will speak in the interests of his own campaign and will urge party unity in voting a straight Democratic ticket.

Congressman Harry R. Shepard, seeking re-election in the 19th district, will outline his program. Assemblyman Clyde A. Watson, candidate for re-election from the 74th district, and Burr A. Brown, Seal Beach city attorney, and candidate for assembly from the 75th district, will be introduced.

Injured Veteran Teaches Self Art

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — When Oliver Albertson returned from the World War, throat injuries prevented him from resuming his job as a railroad fireman. Three years ago he saw an exhibit of oil paintings and pondered: "If they can, I can." Since then, with his physician's aid, Albertson has taught himself to paint. Now 48 years old, he has sold more than 50 oils of ships and harbor scenes.

FARM MARKET REPORT GIVEN

Receipt of the first copy of the long-awaited 2,000 page report by the Federal Trade Commission, dealing with many of the inequities in the marketing of farm products, was announced today by the California Farm Bureau Federation through its secretary, Alex Johnson. It was announced here today.

This report, said to be of unusual significance to California growers, is a detailed inquiry into agricultural incomes and a study of wide trends between production and consumption of agricultural commodities.

Principal Products
Published in three volumes, the report covers principal farm products with emphasis on fruits, vegetables and grapes, leading California commodities.

Issuance of the report is credited to the California Farm Bureau Federation, which fought against burial of the study in Congressional archives.

"Correction of marketing ills has long been a major project of the California Farm Bureau Federation," Johnson said today.

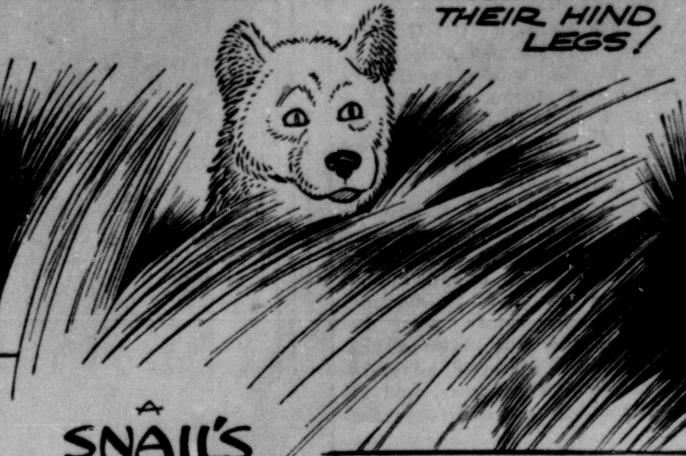

Major Problem
"Our organization, in cooperation with the American Farm Bureau Federation, comprising 40 state Farm Bureau federations, was responsible for the congressional appropriation which made this study possible."

Johnson says the study presents a graphic picture of one of the major problems in American agriculture, and will be used as a foundation for legislative and economic measures to correct many current marketing practices working a hardship against both producers and consumers.

A NEW CAR JOINS THE FORD QUALITY GROUP

THE MERCURY

V-TYPE

Eight

A PRODUCT OF THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY

THE MERCURY V-8 TOWN SEDAN

For 1939 the Ford Motor Company presents an entirely new car—The Mercury Eight—designed to bring a new standard of value to its price field. Outstanding features are streamlined beauty—rich upholstery and appointments—95-hp. V-type engine—hydraulic brakes—remarkable quiet and comfort—116-inch wheelbase—wide bodies—exceptional room for passengers and luggage.

THOUSANDS of motorists, noting the extra value provided by the Ford in the low-price field and by the Lincoln-Zephyr in the higher medium-price field, have desired an equally outstanding value in the lower medium-price field.

The new Mercury 8 is the answer to that desire. It provides the added size and luxury that extra dollars buy, plus something this price class has never known before... Ford quality and dependability, with the performance and economy of a new V-type 8-cylinder engine.

It is made possible by the modern, progressive policies of the Ford Motor Company and its constant effort to give greater value to a widening circle of motorists.

The clean, flowing lines of the new Mercury reflect the distinction of the Lincoln-Zephyr—and, as every one knows, the Lincoln-Zephyr is now the accepted style leader and an example of Ford pioneering in original design.

The Mercury is a big car—long and unusually wide—with exceptional space for passengers and luggage. Three people can ride comfortably in both front and back seats. Head room and leg room are equal to that of many cars selling at considerably higher prices.

Because the Mercury is a big car, it is powered by a big 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine. Motorists who now own cars in this price field will be amazed at the brilliant, economical performance of the Mercury.

It is a remarkably quiet car. New sound-deadening materials have been developed in special Ford laboratories and thorough, scientific soundproofing by Ford engineers has reduced noise and vibration to a minimum.

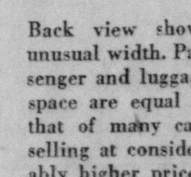

Bodies are all-steel, welded into a single unit. It is equipped with hydraulic brakes built to strict Ford standards of safety and dependability.

We invite you to see the new Mercury 8.

GUNNETT ESTATE IS VALUED AT $21,000

The late Abram D. Gunnett, who died in Fullerton October 22, left a $21,000 estate, consisting of realty and stocks, according to a petition just filed in superior court by his grand-daughter, Gladys D. Evans of Fullerton, to probate the will.

The will noted that before his death Gunnett had transferred to Gladys Evans a 52-acre ranch at Arlington, which is not included in the probate proceedings. The remaining estate was distributed by the will between various brothers, widowed sister-in-laws, nieces and nephews, and religious institutions and organizations.

The Retired Ministers' association of the M.E. church in Southern California, the Women's Missionary society of the M.E. church Southern California conference, the Pacific branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church, the W.C.T.U. of Southern California and the Spanish-American Institute at Gardena, each was willed five per cent; the Children's Home Society of Southern California receives two per cent.

Members Of Star Club Entertained

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Mary Clark assisted by Mrs. Anola Nearing, entertained members of the Monday Afternoon Star club at her home on Stanford avenue Monday.

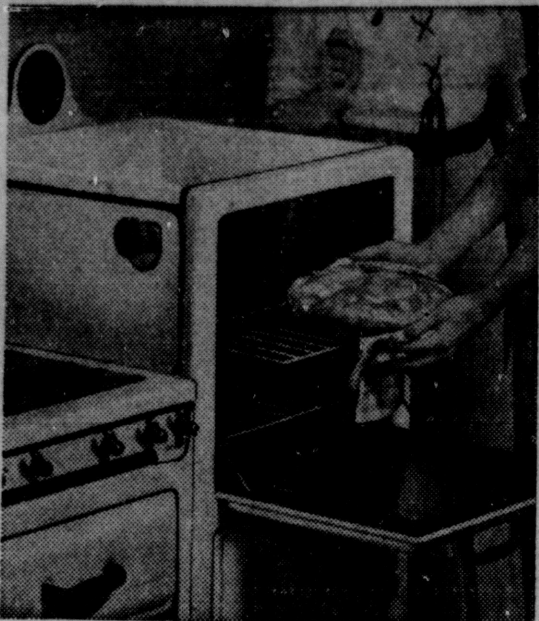

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Letty Lee Robbins, Mrs. Helen Woodworth presided. Mrs. Anabel Bryan was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for packing baskets for needy families. Announcements were made of the next meeting of the club to be held November 21 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Jentges with Mrs. Mae Henry and Mrs. Lida Mitchell co-hostesses, and the chapter meeting on November 10, when new officers will be elected.

Members sewed on a quilt for the hostess. Prizes in a contest went to Mrs. Emma Henry, Mrs. Ethel Schauer and Mrs. Clara Bryan. Present were Mesdames N. Reed, a guest; Clara Bryan, Clara Wilson, Alice T. Smith, Dorothy Thornburg, Emma Henry, Mae Henry, Anabel Bryan, Ethel Schauer, Mae Stroud, Ella Wheeler, Minnie Lynch, Helen Woodworth, Mabel Williams and the hostesses.

Pies Are Most Easy To Make

"With the present-day oven heat control assuring a uniform temperature there is no reason why the housewife should not be able to prepare any baked dish successfully," Mrs. Margaret Lackland, noted food expert conducting the Register-Southern Counties Gas company cooking school today, tomorrow and Friday at 2 p. m., said. "Tempting and golden brown pies such as the one shown above, are no trick at all, for the oven control one has merely to turn the dial to the specified temperature and the oven does the rest."

COOKING SCHOOL INSTRUCTOR RECOMMENDS NEW ELECTROLUX

"To those homemakers who think all automatic refrigerators are about the same, the complete silence of Servel Electrolux is an amazing revelation," says Mrs. Margaret Lackland, popular foods expert who is conducting the Register-Southern Counties Gas Company Modern School of Gas Cookery today, tomorrow and Friday at the West Coast theater.

"But I don't understand it," they say. "Why doesn't it ever get noisy?" And this is what I tell them. Servel Electrolux is basically unlike any other refrigerator in its simplicity of operation. The Electrolux at the school was furnished by C. R. Stauffer, plumbing, on North Main street.

"There is no noise, because there are no moving parts in its freezing system. And for the same reason, there is no wear, no loss of efficiency due to moving parts or wearing parts. A tiny gas flame does all the work in this remarkable refrigerator. In circulation the refrigerant that, unfailingly, produces food-preserving cold and sparkling cubes of ice.

"This different, simpler method is why you can count on Servel Electrolux for more years of trouble-free refrigeration and savings that pay for it. Throughout its long life, you enjoy continued savings on food bills . . . the same amazingly low running cost . . . a practical absence of upkeep and depreciation.

"Another reason why I like my Electrolux," points out Mrs. Lackland, is because the cabinet is roomy, providing lots of space for large cuts of meat and week-end specials. There are high sections where tall bottles stand upright, with room to spare; banded shelves, where even a slender glass, brimming full, will not tip or spill; a split shelf that lifts out to leave room for bulky foods; a special basket for eggs that slips part way out when wanted but does not come all the way and drop the eggs on the floor, even if pulled hard in a hurry."

In her demonstration at the Modern School of Gas Cookery, Mrs. Lackland will demonstrate the many desirable features of the new 1938 Servel Electrolux refrigerators. One of these new models will be included in the equipment on the stage and at the conclusion of each day's class the women in the audience are invited to inspect it.

Cuba, if placed with one end at New York City, would reach as far west as Chicago.

CLASS HOLDS SOCIAL

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 2.—A Halloween costume party was held in the social hall of the Alamos Friends church recently for members of Mrs. Albert Stuart's boys' Sunday school class. The boys enjoyed various games. Refreshments were served to the following: Robert Long, Bob Broady, James Stinson, Stanley Columbia, Joe Ingram, Max Cochran, Walter Leachman, Roger Mitchell and the Rev. and Mrs. Albert Stuart and daughter, Ethelyn.

Some silk stockings contain 50 miles of silk.

WEBER'S BREAD IS CHOSEN FOR SCHOOL

"How can I serve my family meals which are more appetizing, nutritious and interesting?" That is a question for which housewives all over America are constantly seeking answers, which we will try to give at The Register-Southern Counties Gas Company Cooking school today, tomorrow and Friday afternoons," according to Mrs. Margaret Lackland, who is supervising the school.

so important to our diet as bread," Mrs. Lackland said. "Here is a food which can be served in countless numbers of ways to make every-day meals deliciously different."

"Naturally, women want to buy the bread which will give them the most for their money. In answer to this question, housewives will be interested to know that we have chosen Weber's Bread for this year's cooking school. Officials of this company declare that housewives have learned through experience that by buying Weber's bread they can be sure of getting consistently high quality and uniform texture."

Great Britain's used car trade employs 200,000 persons.

BEN-HUR LEADS IN COFFEE LIST

Ben-Hur has been placed at the head of the list of the finer coffees placed in the United States, according to Mrs. Margaret Lackland, instructor in charge of The Register-Southern Counties Gas Company Modern School of Cooking, which opened today at the West Coast theater.

"And that is why we are featuring Ben-Hur coffee at the school," Mrs. Lackland explained. "Truly Economical"

"Ben-Hur richness of flavor and full body means not only extra deliciousness and real coffee-drinking satisfaction, but in addition Ben-Hur is truly economical, assuring many more full flavored, full-bodied cups per pound."

"Ben-Hur has been a leading brand in the Southwest for more than 35 years and during all that time there has been tireless experimenting to produce more and more deliciousness for your cup. Every manufacturing and vacuum packing improvement has been speedily adopted, this plus the never-ending search for betterment in the Ben-Hur blend. In the coffee experts' opinion, today it is perfect."

Session Theme Will Be Adult Education Aid

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A symposium on the need for co-operation between all government educational institutions and private agencies will feature the Middle States Regional conference on Adult Education here Oct. 25-29.

More than 2000 educators are expected to attend the three-day conference, to be held here in conjunction with the meeting of the Pennsylvania State association for Adult Education.

The symposium, headed by Dr. M. M. Proffitt of the U. S. office of education, will present Dr. Robert H. Morrison of the New Jersey department of public instruction; Dr. Ross O. Runnels, supervising principal, Maplewood, N. J.; Helen Hall of Henry Street Settlement, New York; Rabbi Edward L. Israel of Baltimore, and Mark Starr, educational director of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union.

Salvage Crews To Dredge Out Treasure Ship

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, (UP) — Salvage operations are scheduled to begin soon on the site of the wreck of the Grosvenor, an East India Company ship which was sunk near Port St. John in 1782 with a cargo of gold, silver and precious stones valued at $25,000,000.

The company which will undertake the work estimates that it will cost about $175,000.

It is proposed to build a breakwater 1,300 feet long around the gully in which the wreck lies. Inside the breakwater there will be a watertight dike about 400 feet long and similar in construction to the dikes of the Zuider Zee.

When this work is completed the water will be pumped out of the gully before the actual work of salvaging begins.

New Gas Ranges Aid Oven Cooking

"These are the days of cooking whole meals in the oven," says Mrs. Margaret Lackland, noted food expert, who is conducting The Register-Southern Counties Gas company cooking school today, tomorrow and Friday at the West Coast theater. "It makes cooking a pleasure and on busy days an oven-cooked dinner is invaluable to the home-maker who needs extra time for her many activities. The oven dinner not only offers more freedom from the kitchen but also reduces fuel costs." The school sessions begin at 2 p. m., lasts two hours, each day.

College Society To Present Play

FULLERTON, Nov. 2. — "Bury the Dead," a dramatization of bitter satire on war and showing the futility of everything connected with war, is to be presented for the public by the Fullerton Junior college drama society, "Night-walkers," Monday, November 7, at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The play will be given in the form of a dramatic reading, with 28 persons taking part, reading their parts on a semi-darkened stage.

"Bury the Dead" concerns six dead soldiers who refuse to be buried, claiming their spirits "cannot rest as long as war with its misery and horror continues. The play is symbolical throughout and stresses that sacrifice for war is useless. Bill Cann, Fullerton Junior college student, is directing the performance."

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

INITIATIVE 19

Initiative 19 would give the Welfare Board the authority to distribute some $3,335,000 of so-called surplus to the Veterans who purchased certain properties.

There seems to be no reason why these particular Veterans should be participants in the government legacy. It is doubtful whether any real audit would show any surplus at all if all the costs were added in. It would seem, in order to be fair to all Veterans and all taxpayers, that a "No" vote on this amendment would work greater justice.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IN POLLING BOOTH

Competent observers of recent elections for municipal ownership of electricity, have come to the conclusion that the politicians are encountering difficulty in hoodwinking the public into belief that there is a serious power problem.

There never have been fewer rate disputes in the industry than there are at present. Localized differences between the public and the companies are negligible. The immediate question is simply whether or not a political minority is to be permitted to quietly socialize the electric industry.

Municipal elections in scores of communities throughout the country have resulted in overwhelming defeat of public ownership proposals. And in many cases the results indicate that the public is opposed, not only to the principle of public ownership, but likewise to the underhanded manner in which the effort is being made to establish public ownership. In other words, there are signs that the taxpayers resent having Congress vote huge sums of money to be handed out at random in gifts and loans to entice communities into building unnecessary municipally-owned electric utilities with which to destroy by means of tax-free competition, heavily-taxed private utilities that have been giving good service for many years.

Once the politicians see which way the wind is blowing they may be less favorable to promoting socialistic destruction of private enterprise.

SHERIDAN DOWNEY'S IDEA OF REVOLUTION

A contributor in the Clearing House says that whoever contends Downey advocates revolutions is "either a liar or ignorant of all the facts."

After we have read the quotations which the contributor supplies, we are still of the same opinion. We admit that we may be ignorant.

Downey seems to assume that a revolution would be wisely and aggressively led. But, a revolution of the crowd, as Downey advocates, has never in all history been wisely led.

Downey also says that we have planless circumstances blindly operating. That is exactly what Downey is advocating—a blind majority rule with no fundamental principles of equality before the law. It is because some 25 years ago we got away from the Constitution, following the paths of men like Downey who advocate that the majority has unlimited rights over the minority, that we find ourselves in the present condition.

The contributor seems to think that a newspaper can give all the facts. If a newspaper attempted to give all the facts on every article, it would take a thousand pages. Every newspaper item is a question of opinion as to what is important and what has to be eliminated. There can be no other kind of a newspaper. The man who contends that a newspaper can give all the facts has no conception of the limitations of incomes of newspapers.

We still contend that Downey is a revolutionist because he has no plan. He would destroy the principles of the Universal Rule of equality before the law. He is a most dangerous candidate who advocates any scheme that will take from one and give to another if he thinks it will get him more votes than another plan. He never explains how he will bring about his Utopia. His statements are always generalities. He is a faker of the worst kind. Just as the man who put poison in a well, Downey would poison the thoughts of the people and create covetousness, envy and hate simply to give himself power.

The columns of this paper are open for Downey or anyone he officially appoints to explain, not in generalities, but in detail, how he would raise the real wages of all workers permanently.

The Nation's Press

A QUESTION OF VERACITY

(Chicago Tribune)

On Monday Aubrey Williams, deputy W.P.A. administrator, reported that he had investigated charges by Senator Davis of misuse of W.P.A. funds in Pennsylvania and found they "did not contain a cinch of truth."

On Tuesday the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee, headed by Senator Sheppard (D) Tex., and with a majority of Democratic members, made a report declaring that every charge made by Davis and so far investigated by the committee is true.

The committee found that owners of trucks used by W.P.A. have been solicited for campaign gifts, that W.P.A. workers were shaken down for funds, that political mailing lists were prepared in W.P.A. offices and that one group of 18 men was transferred 10 miles from home after its members registered as Republicans.

The public will have little difficulty in resolving the question of veracity thus raised in regard to Williams, and will know how to appraise any future utterances he may make. If the President does not remove him immediately he will be put in the position of condoning an attempt on the part of a government officer to deceive an official government agency.

SABOTAGE OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

(Chicago Tribune)

Until America changes its laws this will be a land of private enterprise. As such it will place its reliance upon the use of private property to produce the goods it needs for welfare and prosperity. Until the form of government, the economic order, and the purpose of laws have been changed the country will depend upon private capital derived from the savings of the people to create and operate productive enterprise.

The New Deal has failed because it has ignored these facts. It has pretended to accept

ANY EXCEPTIONS TO THE UNIVERSAL RULE IN DEMOCRACY

All the history that I have ever been able to read, tends to cause me to believe that any violation of equality before the law in a democracy leads eventually to destruction of true democracy.

It is for this reason that we are compelled to wonder whether a graduated tax on personal spending, would lead to the same results to which every other discriminatory law in a democracy has led.

Inasmuch as the individual is of so little importance in himself and can accomplish so little, and evolution, or survival of the fittest, means not alone a survival of an individual but it means survival of the social group that learns best how to use the talents of all its people, it might be possible that this violation of the Universal Rule of a uniform rate of tax for all and to place a graduated tax on spending might not work out, as has all other discriminatory laws in eventual collapse of government but might work out to the benefit of the society that adopts this principle.

It would seem that a graduated tax on spending would do the least possible damage to labor; that this would be the best possible way to make it so that every laborer would receive more for his work.

This kind of a graduated tax would certainly not sweat labor and reduce the wages of labor and kill jobs, as the graduated tax we now have that includes the tax on income resulting from production.

If there is any possible way the government can be benevolent to those having the hardest time to make a living without hurting other laborers just above this scale, a graduated tax on spending seems to be the best way to accomplish it.

It has only been the last five or six years the Federal Government has made any attempt directly to be benevolent to any of its citizens. Before that, it was the local subdivision that showed the only direct benevolence. The discriminatory laws, however, contrary to the very spirit of democracy, was started 25 years ago. It was started so gradually and other artificial stimulants, like use of excessive bank credit, so stimulated activity and so confused the people that it has taken a quarter of a century to come to the point where the Federal Government directly attempted to become benevolent. During the last five years, this benevolence has grown by leaps and bounds. It has gone to such an extent that it is paralyzing initiative when hooked up with the discriminatory tax laws that make it impossible for people of creative talent to use their energies as they would if not interfered with by the government by discriminatory taxes.

If anyone has any thoughts as to why a graduated tax on spending would not be more beneficial to labor than a graduated tax on production, they will be performing a service by pointing out these thoughts.

The columns are open.

WHY POLITICAL JOBS ARE NOW SO DESIRABLE

Why are there now more people wanting to get on the government pay roll than ever before?

The only reason any man wants any job is because it pays him better in material rewards or prestige than any other job will pay. The public positions in most cases pay those filling the jobs a much higher rate for a given amount of service than private industry is able to pay. This is the reason there is now such a scramble for these jobs. And as taxes go up and as the government continues to regulate and restrict private enterprise, it will make it so difficult for efficient operations in private industries that there will be more and more people anxious to get on the government pay roll.

There is no reason in the world why there should be such a discrepancy in rewards for private and public services. Invariably the government pays much higher for inefficient talent than private industry does and much less for efficient talent than private industry does. This is one of the principal reasons why the government can never compete with private industry when private industry is not interfered with by the politicians.

them, but the pretense has been only a cover for persistent and destructive attack upon the saving of money and its use in the making of goods. It has substituted the internal revenue department for the savings bank, federal spending for private investment, and governmental activity for private enterprise.

Dr. Howard G. Moulton of the Brookings Institute, talking to delegates to the Mortgage Bankers' association convention, said that control of economic life has gone from private to public hands. Private investment is restricted by banking regulations. Business has been so hedged in that normal earnings cannot be made. Banks cannot find outlets for their large accumulations of funds. It is necessary for them to find ways of discouraging savings.

"This not only prevents us from raising standards of living through the growth of productive capital," said Dr. Moulton, "but it renders our savings impotent and strikes at the very foundation of the entire capitalist system. For these reasons the restoration of the free flow of money through the capital markets into the expansion of productive plant and equipment is the central problem in economic reconstruction."

The present government has kept the system of private enterprise merely as window dressing to deceive the eye. Back of it is a totally different system, one of state socialism deliberately breaking down the old economic order, strangling and smothering it. Where the practice is so persistent the purpose must be assumed. The breakdown is intended.

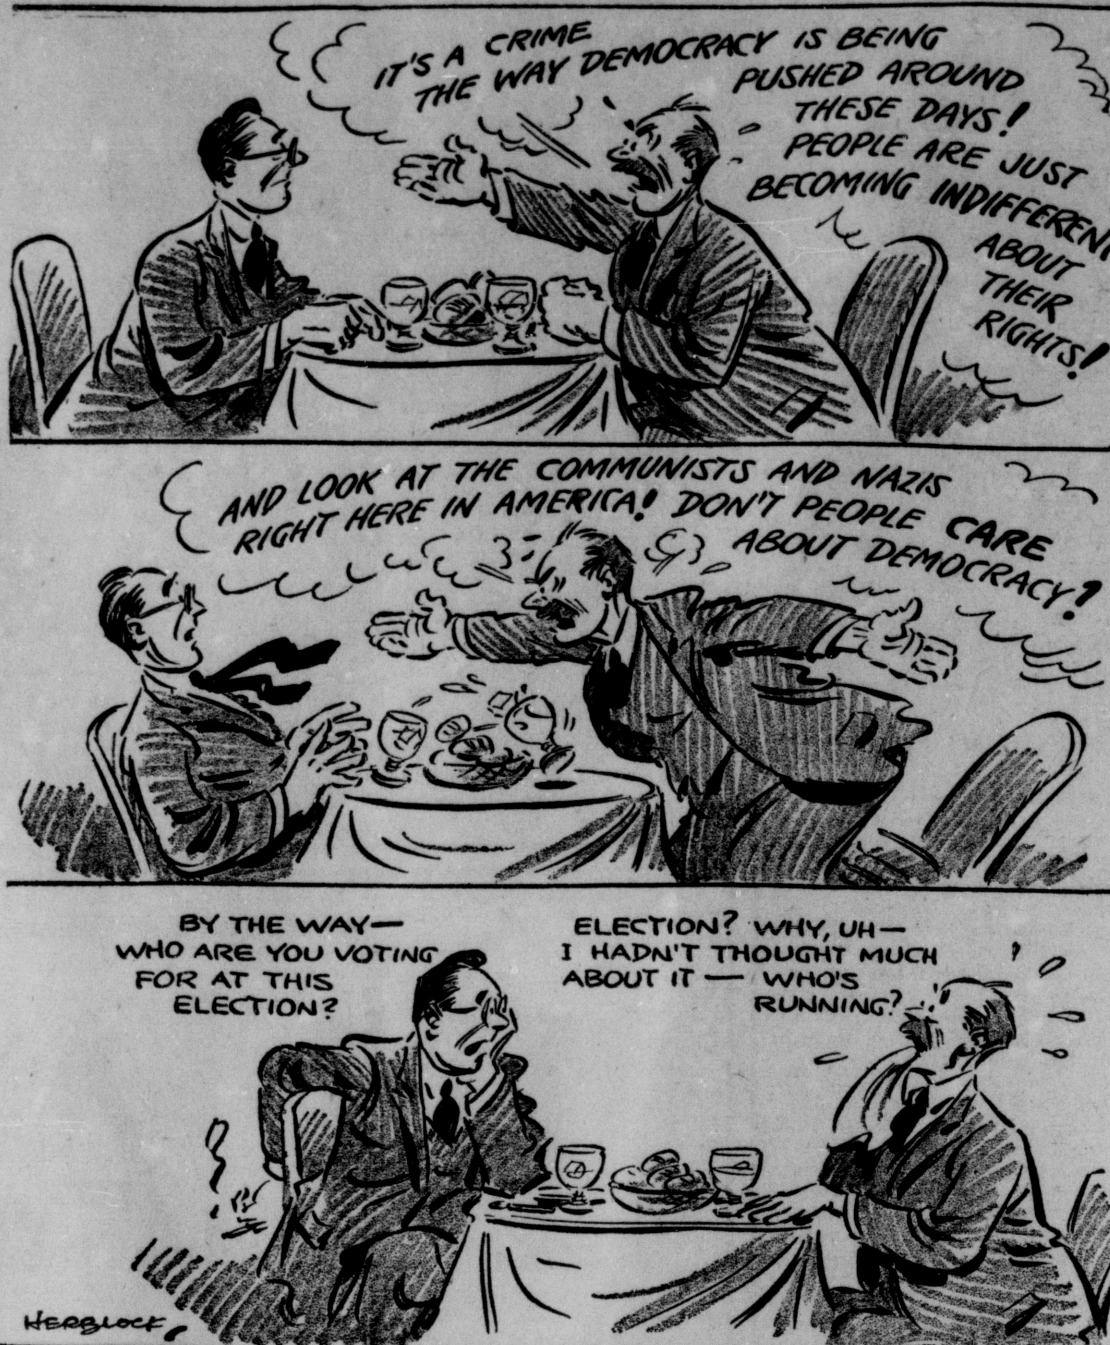

ON NURTURING IMBECILES

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

In analyzing the work of the Johns Hopkins free clinic Henry Mencken shows that a large percentage of its services in delivering babies is rendered to feeble-minded and syphilitic women. With characteristic violence of utterance Mr. Mencken says: "Imagine permitting such ghastly caricatures of humanity to reproduce their kind, and not only permitting it but even facilitating it." The record shows that the children of these women become the pathological specimens of the next generation. "Twenty years hence their daughters will be back ready with more syphilitic babies."

Mr. Mencken's statement recalls a line in a decision by Justice Holmes upholding a sterilization law: "Three generations of imbeciles are enough."

Wages and Hours

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—You know all the trouble you have getting into a package of chewing gum or cigarettes through the cellophane that encases it. You can thank the Du Ponts for that. They wrapped the world in Cellophane and created a new industry. With Duco, they also revolutionized the business of painting automobiles. The reason why your ancient automobile can always be rescued from the appearance of a tramp steamer after a trip around the Horn, is that Du Pont contribution.

Now we are about to see another, a brand new textile of unbelievable qualities. You can be sure there will be no bonehead plays in this connection. The Du Ponts are sure the gun is loaded before they pull any trigger. They are starting an immense industrial plant at Seaford, Delaware. When this new product begins to roll through that great mill, it will be right.

The possibilities of a new development of this kind are unpredictable. If we could, by some invention, solve the problem of the mechanical or chemical preparation of flax and other so-called "bast" fibers, we could restore our old linen industry and relieve ourselves of dependence on India and the British Isles for jute and burlap. This new textile may free us from our necessity to look to the Orient and France for silk. Such inventions change large chunks of our troublesome economic problem and give jobs to tens of thousands.

But my point is not to over-emphasize this particular theory. It is to suggest that Pierre Du Pont take a leaf out of the book of Henry Ford. Mr. Ford's idea is to put our economy into better balance by making agriculture serve industry more directly. He produces this in two ways: First, he wants the products of our farms to replace, more and more, imports from other countries as industrial raw materials. Second, he wants to decentralize industry—put more factories in rural areas and see that industrial workmen are settled on small farms where they can produce more of their own food, fuel and shelter and also have off-season profitable farm employment when the factories slow down.

I think Mr. Ford has something there. He is working it out convincingly in an experimental way. But what an opportunity this is for Mr. DuPont to put it into mass production.

Pierre Du Pont has come in for a lot of Third New Deal ribbing as an economic royalist. To me it always seemed a shame. Anybody who knows him will tell you he is a simple, kindly man—lovable and inordinately shy. He is so concentrated on doing his daily stint, such as producing Cellophane and Duco and this new scientific miracle, that he gives insufficient thought to what adverse propaganda is doing to him. I have always thought he ought to go on the air with a piece he had prepared himself without any "publicity adviser's" assistance and beginning "My Name is Pierre Du Pont," proceed in his own simple way to describe his aims and methods. From my knowledge of him and his philosophy, I believe he could change hostile popular opinion in a single speech.

But here is a chance to say it in actions rather than words. To my mind, and partly through Du Fellow Citizens:—Mr. Hoiles and young people in or out of juvenile trouble.

If those who do not know first hand the facts with regard to the juvenile court would only analyze the situation a little and not just swallow that word "political" as meaning a powerful machine who is out to get someone so another political gang can take possession of the hog trough for a season.

I ask you—if there is a situation needing attention, a condition existing which only a change of officials can remedy—when is the time to make that situation known? Wouldn't it be when the officials are asking for their job to be continued?

It seems to me that it would be more to the point to bring proof that the charges are untrue. For instance—will the juvenile court and home officials swear that children are not placed in solitary confinement for a good many days on end—shut up in a cell with nothing at all to do? That while they are undergoing this punishment they are not asked over and over again to confess to whatever they are charged with even before they have had their day in court? That is one of the questions we who are not interested in politics would like to know. Whether someone is using these facts to get himself elected to office is immaterial to us. Our interest is in the children. We want America to be a civilized land. Some of us may have a boy or girl needing correction some day but we don't want them to come out of it ruined hearts toward society forever more.

LUCY CRAIG, Brea, Calif.

Fellow citizens:—The election is but a few days away. California has never had an election fraught with such grave possible results. Usually the passage or defeat of measures, or the election or defeat of candidates, does not affect the welfare and happiness of the citizens, so very much. But the passage of either proposition No. 29 or No. 25, on November the 8th would wreck the state financially, and bring untold suffering and misery to a people already overburdened to the limit of endurance with taxation because of the huge relief burden.

The promoters of the California Pension Plan, not satisfied with the passage of a dangerous pension measure have now launched a program of hate and destruction. They oppose everything dear to Californians, viz: churches, schools and financial institutions. They hold their political meetings in churches when possible and create discord and hate. They desecrate the Lord's day by having their picnics and political gatherings on Sunday. They propose to destroy the source of school funds, by repealing the sales tax, and to pay one-half of teacher's salary in worthless warrants. Now they have made the pension plan a secondary matter and have launched a tirade of false and malicious propaganda against our banking system. They import a Congressman from Minnesota to discredit the banking system here, while the Congressman left the same banking system in Minnesota he found in California. They have imported a woman speaker, not to help out over the pension plan, but to criticize and discredit our bankers. Funds paid with the pension fund for the sole purpose of being used to favor and pass a pension measure is sent out of the state to hire speakers to spread hate and distrust against the banking system. They are deliberately diverting the funds from the use for which the old people paid same. Our bankers are no more responsible for the enactment of banking laws than the postmaster is for postal laws. Senator Carter Glass and Woodrow Wilson remodeled the banking laws, and Franklin Roosevelt streamlined the system. Yet the candidates who are running on the "ham and egg" platform claim to be Democrats and with the present administration. If Mr. Downey is elected to the Senate he will honor bound to carry out the wishes of the "ham and egg" group, by introducing a bill authorizing the President to appoint an administrator for each state, to set up a "ham and egg" banking system. Of course he will list three names all from each state, one of whom the

Politics in Fiscal Affairs

By WALTER E. SPAHR

Professor of Economics, New York University

A dispatch from Washington says that the current budget for this fiscal year (1938-39) estimates spending of $8,985,157,600, income of $5,000,270,000, and a net deficit of $3,984,887,600.

It then goes on to say that a spending program on a scale closely approaching that for the current fiscal year is expected for next year because of authorizations in prior fiscal years and because of the politico-economic factors revolving around business recovery. The fiscal experts contend, according to the dispatch, that the Administration "will have to continue its heavy spending program to insure a favorable business and industrial picture for the 1940 elections."

The point to this article is that, if the economics of the situation be considered, the Administration will not have to continue such spending to insure a favorable business picture for 1940.

Proof of the utter fallaciousness of the assumptions of these fiscal experts lies in the nature of the sharp recovery which took place in this country during the twenty-four months of April, 1921, to April, 1923—a recovery which involved an increase in productive activity of 67 per cent.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Odds against labor peace are 10 to 1 in most expert books. Too many sacrifices of position would be required of both sides. The Fan-Perkins consultations are considered mostly talk; have failed to develop any real basis for hope.

Significant in this respect was the comment from AFL's peace advocate, Daniel Tobin, when informed of administration peace statements: "I wish sometimes that people in the government would not talk so much."

Long-delayed show-down will start in anti-monopoly committee after election. Move will be made to curtail the two year investigation planned by some downtown economists, in favor of swift legislative action, probably concerning glass and farm machinery.

Agriculture fixers are hemming and hawing about their Wallace two price plan, unable to arrange satisfactory mechanics for it. They mean business, but they do not know how to work it out. The expected experiment in New England with food and perhaps textiles probably will be made eventually, but on a small scale.

Worst unadvertised deficiency in U. S. preparedness is youth health. One-fourth of our young men are unfit for military service. You will see no announcements. Attention is being centered upon airplanes and such health matters as the question of whether American Medical association is a monopoly for restraining cut-rate group physicians.

Last survey of the U. S. public health service indicated there were 311,900 between the ages of 15 and 24 suffering from chronic diseases or permanent impairment. There were 49,500 invalids in the same age group. At least half a million more could not meet the military test for any kind of duty in the opinion of the best authority. Thus about 250,000 of our 11,000,000 men who would be expected to do most of the fighting cannot carry a gun. The deficiency may be even greater. A confidential national youth administration survey of 1930 on their Minnesota rolls showed 40 per cent unfit even for employment in private industry.

Not all the administration is united on foreign policy.

It may be most popular of all New Deal dealings in and out of Washington, but not with a certain young economist near the White House.

He unburdened himself in a talk to a dinner group, challenging the state department to "make public the truth about the Munich peace." Apparently he thought it would show British and French hands less clean than been represented, for his program was:

Further isolation from England and France, coupled with an active government publicity campaign to show people the U. S. is better off than the dictator nations; also to show how horrible the last war was. Primary plank in his platform was a declaration for the cash-and-carry system in event of European war. He would make Europeans come for stores in their own ships and pay cash on the dock.

While the advocates of this course have been keeping their remarks off the record, they will have a formidable phalanx at the coming session of congress.

Note—The economist was Leon Henderson, secretary of the anti-monopoly committee.

Most completely vacant government bureau is the elaborately equipped radio broadcasting division of the interior department. Secretary Ickes installed all the best devices when he finished the building but has not been able to find anything to do with it. Negotiations are under way to have the bureau of education broadcast some culture.

Latest New Deal row to break out is in SEC. It has the whole commission seething.

Apparently one official in the public utility division has an inferiority complex and another has a persecution complex, or at any rate this is the way commissioners explain it.

Commission is either going to hire a Freudian expert to unravel both complexes or hire successors to both complicators.

U. S. government is lending experts to Latin American governments as the first step in the new good neighbor development. State, agriculture and labor are assigning men to the Dominican republic, Haiti, and will send to Brazil and Nicaragua in answer to requests. Their salaries will be paid by this government under an obscure law enacted last session.

Austere senate is going to bend sufficiently to permit movies to be taken of it in action next session. Movie Director Frank Capra fixed it with Col. Edwin Halsey, Senate secretary, recently.

President must appoint within five days as administrator or else Nov. 1 will automatically become administrator. In keeping with the "ham and egg" measure in California, these administrators will have authority to propose an amendment to the Constitution, without permission of the President or Congress, or the necessity of circulating a petition. If a "ham and egg" set-up is good for California, it would be good for the nation.

The pensioners of California joined the "ham and egg" pension plan without knowing its real purpose. But now that they are out in the open and the real purpose revealed, it is the duty of all old age pensioners to vote against proposition No. 25 and save our pensions and the good name of California as well. On Nov. 8, every voter in California will have the choice of voting for or against our churches, schools and financial integrity. Vote no on proposition No. 25, if you love your flag, your fellow man and the kind and loving Creator of us

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2.—I've just seen a preview showing of "Submarine Patrol"—an entertaining, undoubtedly profitable picture which could have been great, but isn't. It is typical of scores of current pictures, built on strong, dramatic themes, which just miss greatness, they all suffer from the same malady—too much comedy relief.

In "Submarine Patrol," I wanted to see soul-stirring battles between splinter boats and undersea raiders. I wanted a full-sized order of heroism, served rare and sauced with a bit of grimness. Instead, I saw an eight reel comedy, "re-lieved" by a very few dramatic sequences. Of the nine principal characters aboard the sub chaser, only three played their roles straight. The other six men were out-and-out comics, as nutty as so many pieces of peanut brittle. I laughed at their darn-foolery and spent an enjoyable evening—but I left the theater feeling that I had seen just one more, routine, run-of-the-mill picture. Review mentally the alleged "dramas" you've seen in the past year and I think you'll agree that Hollywood is over-emphasizing comedy relief. Still worse, the comedy, nine times out of ten, has little or nothing to do with the plot. It is there because Hollywood's 1939 formula demands it, not because it accentuates the drama, as it did, or instance, in "The Big Parade," a really great picture. Personally, I'd appreciate

'QUICKIES' TO FEATURE TALKS

First of a series of extemporaneous talks making up November program was given last night at Century Toastmasters Club with Ted Blanding as toastmaster.

The purpose, as announced by Blanding, was to prepare members to talk upon short notice upon given subjects when required to do so.

Drawn By Lot

This is the plan used in speech-making contests held under the auspices of Toastmasters International. Blanding explained. Subjects were drawn by lot, three to the speaker, with the right to select any one of the three drawn. The drawing was at 6:30, allowing until 7 o'clock for the first speaker, with a few minutes of additional time for each subsequent one.

Those on the program were Robert R. Redfern talking on "The Human Side of War"; Dr. Hiram M. Curry on "Travel"; A. G. Green on "Extension of the Initiative and Referendum to the Federal Government"; Paul K. Alberts on "Service"; and Gilbert Platt on "Diet Committee".

Critics under the direction of Leslie Hynes were Sam Hurwitz, Ralph Smedley, Russell Byler, Wilfred Taylor and Dwight Hamilton.

Green Takes First

Measures on the ballot were discussed as table topics, each member selecting one in which he was interested. General opposition to all was a sentiment voiced several times. In the vote for best talk made, Green was first, with Platt and Dr. Curry tied for second.

CYPRESS HIGHWAY UP TO PLANNERS

Vigorous opposition to the opening of Gay street in Cypress was expressed in open meeting of the county board of supervisors yesterday by H. E. Sexton, rancher, whose ranch will be bisected by the proposed roadway, he declared.

Sexton suggested to supervisors that Denni street be made the through highway. With Sexton was a delegation of 20 residents of the vicinity whose spokesman in the matter was C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, who told the supervisors he was there in defense of the principle involved in the cutting of a ranch to make a highway and stated that in his opinion use of the Denni street line between Orange and Crescent roads "was just as good" as the Gay street line and would not cut into any farm.

After nearly a half hour discussion between supervisors and those opposing the move the board voted to refer the whole matter to the county planning commission for investigation. The committee will meet November 16.

Father of Baby Survivor In Tragedy, Blamed For Deaths

The tragic accident which snuffed out the lives of Barney Arvel Cravens of Anaheim and his wife, Sally, Saturday night in an automobile-train accident here and left six-months-old Barney Jr., homeless, yesterday was blamed on the father.

A coroner's jury in charge of Coroner Earl Abbey at Smith and Tutthill funeral chapel yesterday afternoon held that the accident was the result of the negligent manner in which Cravens drove his automobile.

Struck by Engine

The Cravens, who returned to Anaheim only two months ago after the birth of Barney Jr., near Brownfield, Tex., where parents of the dead couple live, were driving toward Santa Ana on North Flower street at Santa Ana boulevard when their car was demolished by a Southern Pacific freight locomotive.

According to assertions of members of the train crew, Mr. Cravens failed to make a boulevard stop on the northerly side of Santa Ana boulevard. Trainmen, who were exterminated, declared the train was traveling about 20 miles per hour.

Baby Recovering

Jim Cravens, paternal grandfather of Barney, Jr., and W. H. Maness, maternal grandfather, were here today from their homes near Brownfield. They expect to leave tonight for home, accompanying the bodies, which were taken to the Smith and Tutthill funeral home.

Barney, Jr., will be left at Orange county hospital, in charge of attendants and cousins of his dead parents who live in Orange county. Barney is recovering from a broken right leg suffered in the accident. His mother is credited with saving his life by shielding him on her lap as the collision occurred. The Cravens died almost instantly.

According to present plans, Barney, Jr., upon recovery will be sent to the home of one or the other of his grandparents to begin life anew.

Insurance Man Files Lawsuit

Charles V. Geren, Santa Ana insurance agent, today had filed suit in superior court against the Great Republic Life Insurance company, which he says is about to merge with the Postal Telegraph company, and which owes him an accounting of premium commissions, he claims.

He asked for an accounting of first-year premiums and renewal premiums covering the period since he assertedly entered a contract as agent for the insurance company July 20, 1932.

Technician Job Now Is Vacant

There is an opening for an experienced laboratory technician for a physician's office, at the California state employment service, 501 West Fifth street, Santa Ana. ESTABLISH NEW SOIL STATION

The United States Department of Agriculture has moved in on the serious salinity problem affecting the irrigated soils of the West through the opening of a special laboratory at Riverside and the selection of an advisory committee of technicians from all of the eleven western states, according to announcement today by the farm advisor's office. Prof. D. R. Hoagland of the division of plant nutrition, University of California, will represent this state on the advisory board.

Professor Hoagland was one of those who helped obtain the laboratory for the west, the decision being made some months ago at a meeting in Salt Lake City. At that time the government representatives were told that the problem of salinity or alkalinity in the irrigated soils of the west was one of the most serious before American agriculture today. Large areas of land have been abandoned or their production drastically curtailed because of the accumulation of these harmful substances from irrigation waters.

The laboratory is that used by the Citrus Experiment station of the University of California at Riverside for its experiments previous to the building of the present station. Provision for its use as a salinity laboratory was made in the Bookhead-Jones act, passed by congress in 1935. This provides a number of laboratories and other stations throughout the country for the study of fundamental agricultural problems.

Dr. O. C. Magistad, former director of the Hawaiian Agricultural station and the former associate soil chemist at the University of Arizona, is now on the ground as the director of the new laboratory.

Cupid's Darts Strike All-Time October Record

Orange county's matrimonial industry is definitely back on a pre-depression basis, it was indicated today by statistics from County Clerk Basil J. Smith's marriage license bureau, which showed an all-time October record of 439.

Thus, October was the third month of the year to either set a new record or tie one. August had 488 licenses, which was more than any previous August recorded. September had 421, which tied the September record. Then came October with another all-time mark, breaking the record of 421 set in 1933 and tied last year.

The ground lost by passage of the five-day marriage law in 1927 thus has been entirely recovered, statistics show. In October, 1927, just after the five-day law became effective, only 268 licenses were issued.

The Monroes Entertain Congenial Group at Sunday Supper

That pleasantest of all forms of entertaining, the Sunday night supper, was the friendly hospitality put into effect this week by the Bruce Monroes, who on Sunday evening welcomed quite a group of friends to their home, 815 North Garvey street.

The theme of Halloween worked quite beautifully into the decorative effect planned by Mrs. Monroe, who used the holiday's colors in the candles by whose light guests enjoyed a menu stressing the same colors. On the buffet table in the dining room, the soft light fell on a mound of fruits shining from a shallow platter. On the individual four-piece tables, each candle rose from a mound of bright blossoms.

Places were found by guests applying to themselves, the cleverly rhymed descriptions lettered on the place cards in lieu of names, and which proved to be as much fun to read aloud as they were to Mrs. Monroe, to compose. They were written descriptively of Messrs. and Mesdames: Fred Merker, Joseph H. Daniger, Leon Dickey, Edwin T. McFadden, Walter Spicer, Lyle Anderson, Carl Edgar, E. M. Sundquist and Homer Chaney, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Monroe.

Following the supper hour, various games were introduced, including Chinese checkers and bridge. High scores made by Mrs. Daniger and Walter Spicer won for them, the attractively wrapped gifts selected by their hosts.

Bible Study Section Outlines Plans For Year

Woman's club Bible Literature Study section members planned a tentative program for the year when they met Monday for covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. William Kuhn, 526 North Artesia street. A basket of fruit and bronze and yellow mums decked the home. Mrs. Kuhn surprised the group by serving venison which Mr. Kuhn brought home from his recent hunting trip.

Mrs. M. O. Wells, leader, conducted a meeting during which it was decided to have regular sessions the third Monday of each month. She outlined program plans, drawing on a list of books recommended by the state chairman of Bible literature.

Mrs. L. E. Tarbox, club president, told of the value of studying the Bible. Also, she gave highlights from an article, "What the World Most Needs" by Dorothy Thompson; and from a lecture, "The Master Mind in a Muddled World" by Dr. Karl Knopf. Mrs. William Whitehead summarized the first three chapters of a book, "How We Came to Have Our Bible" by J. Patterson Smith.

Quotations from Dr. Bruce Barton's book, "The Book Nobody Knows" were given by Mrs. P. R. Arnold. A playlet which Mrs. Wells had based on the book of Ruth was given by Mrs. George Gould.

WEST COAST—"Suez," starring Tyrone Power, Loretta Young, with outstanding cast including Annabella, J. Edward Bromberg, Joseph Schildkraut, Henry Stephenson, Sidney Blackmer, Sig Ruman; also selected short subjects.

WALKER'S—"Rich Man, Poor Girl," starring Robert Young, Lew Ayres, Ruth Hussey, Guy Kibbee, and "Born to Be Wild," with Ralph Byrd, Doris Weston, Ward Bond; also short subjects including world news.

THE STATE—"Ladies in Distress," with Allison Livingston, Polly Moran, Robert Livingston, Virginia Grey, and "Highway Patrol," with Robert Paige, Jacqueline Wells; also Robert Benchley comedy, world news.

HOME FROM ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McLeod, 403 Wakeham Place and Miss Betty Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bradford, 334 Wakeham Place, have returned from a week's trip to Boulder Dam and Clifton, Ariz.

In Clifton, the trio attended the wedding of Mrs. McLeod's sister, Miss Mary Danenhauer and Alfred Kroeckel. The reunion of relatives brought about by the ceremony was complete with the arrival of the McLeods' mother, Mrs. Bertha distance to be present for the event was the bride's brother, George Danenhauer, who flew from Washington, D. C., where he is in the agricultural office.

The McLeods and Miss Bradford were guests in the home of Mrs. McLeod's mother, Mrs. Bertha Danenhauer, where the wedding took place. Mrs. McLeod enjoyed attending homecoming week at Tempe State Teachers college.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Smith, 206 Cypress avenue returned Sunday evening from Berkeley where they visited with their son-in-law and daughter and new grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell C. Maxson and son, Charles Daniel, who was born September 27. Mrs. Smith had been in the north for the past month, and was joined in Berkeley the last week by Mr. Smith. They made the return trip on the Streamliner.

Mrs. L. William Hynes, 937 West Camille street, has returned from Sierra Madre, where she spent a week visiting with Mrs. Carl Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mapes, 1704 North Ross street, are home from the east, where they made an extensive tour by automobile during the past three months. They were in Denver, Colo., Chicago, Ill., New York City and many other points.

Miss Frances Hill, 805 Bush street has returned from a vacation in the east. She spent a week in Ishpeming, Mich., and was in Pennsylvania for two weeks.

Mrs. Ralph Smedley, 2328 Bonnie Brae and her daughter, Mrs. Lincoln Spaulding (Betty Smedley) of Worcester, Mass., were in Pasadena today attending a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Irene Scott.

Average flow of the Ohio river, third largest volume of water in the United States, is 158,000 feet per the return trip on the Streamliner.

Ballroom Dancing Classes Entertained

Ballroom dancing classes of the Wanger-Caldwell studio were brought together in festive mood recently when Mrs. Walter G. Wanger (Charlotte Caldwell) entertained her students at a costume party in the studio, 107 West Sixth street.

A number of guests joined the pupils for the gala occasion, which was highlighted by a floor show. Mr. Wanger, who toured with Fanchon and Marco for several years, demonstrated tumbling and acrobatics.

With figures, cornstalks and other seasonal appointments provided an appropriate setting for an evening of dancing. The Lambeth Walk and other novelty numbers proved of special interest. At the close of a grand march, Miss June Miles was presented with a prize for her costume.

Refreshments were served buffet style.

Two Hostesses Give Shower in Tustin

Mrs. Hershel Parnell of this city was honored by Mrs. LeRoy Sears and Mrs. Idus Harper Jr. recently when a layette shower was given in Mrs. Sears' home, 303 B street, Tustin.

After guests had hemmed diapers for a time, they took part in a games program. Winning prizes were Miss Wanda Pennington and Mrs. Clair Hanson, who held high and low scores in cootie.

While opening the pretty packages which guests provided, Mrs. Parnell was seated at the dining room table. Cakes and pecan ice cream slices were served by the co-hostesses. Decorations in pink, white and yellow included pompo chrysanthemums.

Guests were the honoree, Mrs. Parnell and Mesdames Clair Hanson, William Tidball, Malcolm Shive, H. Louis Hanson, and the Misses Nadine Pennington, Wanda Pennington, Melba Lee, Alma Harper, Ira Harper, Ama Howell, Lorraine Bruce, Glennajean Titchenal, Martha Thompson, Barbara Traiger, Santa Ana; Mesdames Jack Parnell, Sam Marchant, LeRoy Connelly, Louis Ebel, Clayton Cannon and the Misses Virginia Forney and Marjorie Shoemaker, Tustin.

FASHION TIP—If you have glitter you have glamor. That's the way it is judged this year. Jeweled buttons, jeweled pin, jeweled earrings, they all are emphasized this season. Anything and everything that's jeweled is in style. It makes no difference what or how, just so it sparkles.

SCOLLER'S, 312 North Sycamore street. We wonder if you have seen the grand display of winter coats at Scoller's? The other day we spied a chic military styled coat, fashioned of teal blue, wool gabardine. Of all the attractive coats, this was our favorite. Drop in and see what yours will be.

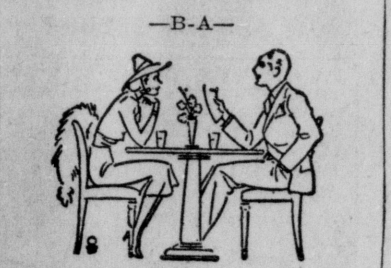

CALIFORNIA PATIO POTTERY
SHOP, 414 West Fourth street. Everyone welcomes practical gifts. The merchandise sold by this cordial little shop, any housewife would enjoy. Casseroles, bean pots, cake plates, cookie jars and every utensil handy for the kitchen, this shop carries in various sizes and colors.

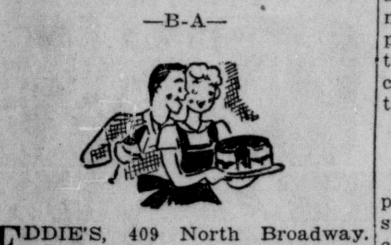

ARCADE REMNANT SHOP, 515 North Main street. It is so much fun to shop in this small store, as they always have so many new materials that fascinate us. Material for all your clothing needs are sold here. We pick up a world of bargains, too, on their 100 remnant table. Come in and look around.

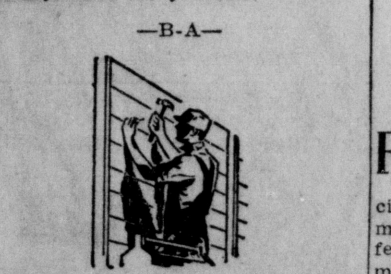

WIESSEMAN'S, 420 North Main street. What adds more to the serene beauty of a home than softly lighted candles? Buy the Tavern DeLuxe brand at Wiesseman's. These candles come in a variety of shades. As an added suggestion, drop in and see the outstanding Christmas cards shown at this store, too.

BETTY BLAIR CAFE, located at the corner of Irvine Park and Santiago Canyon roads. When we eat at home, one of our favorite dishes is the hot chicken pies bought at Betty Blair's cafe. The small pies sell for 15c, while the larger ones are 25c. One may eat them at the cafe if they choose. These pies are something special, and ARE they good!

EDDIE'S, 409 North Broadway. Did you know about the shopper's special served every day at Eddie's for only 25c? This usually includes a tasty toasted sandwich and a thick milk shake. It will come in especially handy when Christmas shopping. All sorts of other goodies are served at this eatery. See for yourself!

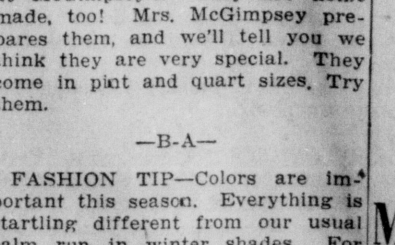

FRANK CURRAN LUMBER CO., 1005 East Fourth street, Phone 8. The rains came. Don't wait until the rainy days set in before having your home reroofed, repaired and repainted. The best materials obtainable in lumber, paper and paint may be bought only at Frank Curran's. Reasonable prices, too.

ALBERT'S, Haircutting Parlor, 314 1/2 West Fourth street. Albert's is the place to go for a really good haircut. Shaping the hair to the contours of the head is one of the specialties of this shop. No appointment is necessary. It is a shop for both men and women. The clientele is 50 per cent ladies.

McGIMPSEY'S, 112 North Sycamore street, Sycamore entrance to Grand Central Market. We just love the delicious pickles sold at McGimpsey's. They are home made, too! Mrs. McGimpsey prepares them, and we'll tell you we think they are very special. They come in pint and quart sizes. Try them.

FASHION TIP—Colors are important this season. Everything is startlingly different from our usual calm run in winter shades. For hose, dress, accessories and make-up, choose a color that centers around the orchid shade. The purplish hues, winy-reds and sparkling burgundies are all good.

RUTHERFORD'S, 515 East First street. Simplicity is the key word to fashion. Miss Simplicity and Gossard foundation garments are the key words to a perfect figure. Either one of these makes of garments will please you. You will enjoy the new high waisted girdles shown at this store. Prices are $2.95 and up. Hats you will like, in all the latest styles priced at $1.95, $2.95 and up. Don't overlook our suggestion of nightgowns and pajamas for Christmas gifts. You will find worthwhile values at Rutherford's, where there is always room to park.

SWANSON'S DRIVE IN, 1807 North Main street. For a bigger and better variety of sandwiches, patronize Swanson's. Their hot turkey sandwiches, with plenty of gravy, potato chips and olives are simply delicious. We know, 'cause we have tried them. All kinds of other hot sandwiches, including chicken and pork. Drive in today and have one.

ADVERTISER'S PRESS, 118 West Third street. One of the best bargains in town is featured at this shop. Just think, 50 Christmas cards, with your name printed on them for ONLY 89c. It's amazing, isn't it? The nice part is, they have so many clever designs. Investigate this tip TODAY.

MAR-SA GIFT SHOP, 616 North Main street. Be original. Have your picture reproduced on your Christmas cards. Family pictures or children's pictures, are especially nice for carrying out this idea. Bring your negative in today. Also, at the Mar-Sa, has a large variety of other Xmas cards, all occasion cards and novelty gifts.

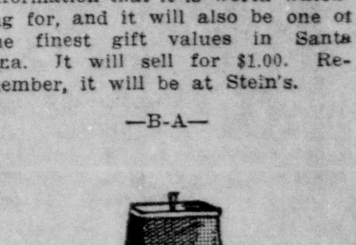

GIBSON & NAILL, 415 North Broadway. It is almost Santa Claus time again. As a pre-Christmas special at Gibson & Naill, you may have one large picture taken for a dollar. This offer is good ONLY for the remainder of this week. By that time you must have your sitting by appointment.

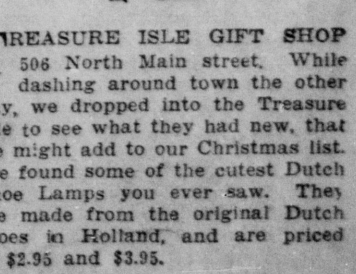

NEWCOMB'S, 111 West Fourth street. With short skirts so much in prominence, good looking shoes are essential. At Newcomb's, we saw so many lovely shoes, but the ones we thought were extra special in style were the ones of alligator and lizard skin, that are put out by Peacock. They come in all sorts of attractive designs.

STEIN'S, 307 West Fourth street. We are so excited. Today we learned that this week Stein's will have a mystery display in the window. Nobody knows what it is, but we have it on first hand information that it is worth watching for, and it will also be one of the finest gift values in Santa Ana. It will sell for $1.00. Remember, it will be at Stein's.

TREASURE ISLE GIFT SHOP, 506 North Main street. While darts are around town the other day, we dropped into the Treasure Isle to see what they had new, that we might add to our Christmas list. We found some of the cutest Dutch Shoe Lamps you ever saw. They are made from the original Dutch shoes in Holland, and are priced at $2.95 and $3.95.

FASHION TIP—A new high in fashions has been reached this year. Hair is piled high on the head—shoes have gone up with the platform sole—hemlines are definitely at knee length—shoulders are built up higher in suits this year. We say it was high time.

Two Pleasant Parties
Give Observance to Birthday Dates

Because LaVerne Guiley, 1227 South Rose street, was aware of Mrs. Guiley's plans to compliment her mother, Mrs. Frank Summers, with a birthday dinner Sunday, it was a simple matter for the hostess to enlarge her plans, and surprise Mr. Guiley with a birthday party on Saturday night.

To him, it seemed entirely natural that his wife should deck their home with mingled flowers, and have vivid marionettes banked in the living room. So arrival of the evening party guests was as great a surprise to him as had been hoped. It was an intimate family get-together, and there were merry reminiscences of Mr. Guiley's boyhood related by his relatives.

As the evening drew to a close, an array of attractive gifts again reminded the host of his natal anniversary, as did the prettily decorated cake which Mrs. Guiley served with ice cream and coffee. In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Guiley were their young son and daughter, Bill and Jane Guiley, Mrs. Mary Watkins, Mrs. Mollie Tyrrell and Mrs. Nellie Hill, Santa Ana Mrs. and Mrs. Ronald Walker, Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Teague, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riesland, W. A. Guiley, Miss Marjorie Guiley, Mr. and Mrs. Hillyard Tyrrell and Jack Goodwin, Los Angeles.

Sunday Dinner

The same charming flower decorations prevailed at Sunday's dinner party complimenting Mrs. Summers, and the table arrangement was especially effective for serving a birthday menu. Again gifts were a pleasant feature, with Mrs. Summers the recipient. With the dessert course was served a luscious cake decorated for the honor guest, one of four big cakes baked by Mrs. Guiley for the two joyous parties. Dinner guests were, with the hosts and their son and daughter, Bill and Miss Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Summers and daughter Patricia, and Mr. Guiley's brother, W. A. Guiley.

Mixing Bowl
BY ANN MEREDITH

When unexpected guests drop in at dinner time what would you do with cocktail and salad courses too small to serve the number of diners?

Exactly that happened in my house and this is what we did with the crab cocktail and the salad of cucumber and avocado slices.

Salad plates were chilled and garnished with curly lettuce leaves. Cucumber slices, paper-thin, and four thin slices of avocado went on each plate with a generous squeeze of lemon juice over the vegetables. The mixed crab cocktail was used over the salad as dressing, and this grand looking salad went to the table in all its glory as first course, served with toasted buttered rolls. For cocktail dressing I used 2 parts mayonnaise, 1 part tomato juice, a pinch of mustard and curry powder and a little thick buttermilk stirred into the mixed dressing. The tomato juice wasn't thin, more like a thick tomato sauce.

Be sure and send for one of the new diet sheets. Three important diets have been included in the new sheet: the standard Safe and Sane diet, The Banana-Skinned milk diet, and the Orange Juice-Milk diet. The consideration is the same: write for the sheet, enclosing a stamped, return-addressed envelope.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S FAVORITE DISHES

Sweet Potato Pie
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes or yams (freshly cooked)
2 cups hot milk
2 eggs, beaten slightly
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg
1-2 teaspoon, each, allspice and salt
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
Large pie pan, lined with rich pastry, edges fluted into high wall.

Assuming that you have prepared the pastry for pie tin and that the sweet potatoes are ready to mash, the next step is to light the oven and set it for 475 degrees of heat.

To the mashed potatoes add all other ingredients in order listed. Beat with egg beater to mix smoothly, pour the filling into pie tin and bake 15 minutes in the hot oven. Reduce the heat to 300 degrees and bake the pie 45 minutes longer (if your stove is electric, turn off both units and the stored heat will finish the baking IF the milk in pie has been heated before mixing with filling).

Banana Delight
1-2 envelope gelatin soaked in cold water and stir occasionally until it shows definite signs of jelling. At this point fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and crushed nuts. Set bowl away in a cool place until ready to serve.

To the scalded banana mixture add soaked gelatin, stir until dissolved, then stand the saucepan in cold water and stir occasionally until it shows definite signs of jelling. At this point fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and crushed nuts. Set bowl away in a cool place until ready to serve.

Announcements

Ebelle Third Household Economics section will meet Friday at 12:30 p. m. for luncheon at the Rossmore. "Air Conditioning in the Home" will be the subject for a program to be given in Ebelle clubhouse. Hostesses will be Mesdames E. L. Morrison, C. W. Rairdon and W. S. Rose.

Miss McFadden Returns
From Y. W. C. Conclave
In Spokane

Returning home Monday evening from a trip to Spokane, Wash., where she attended a world conference of Y. W. C. A. workers, Miss Mabel McFadden, 906 North Main street, was enthusiastic over the scope of work outlined by the leaders.

A past president of Santa Ana Y. W. C. A., Miss McFadden attended the conference with a thorough background of association routine. She was a delegate to the national Y. W. C. A. convention held in 1936 in Colorado Springs.

The Spokane conference, in session October 7 to 10, followed a Y. W. C. A. World Council meeting held in Ontario, Can. Elected president of the Council was Miss Ruth Stouse of London, Eng., former student secretary to the Y. W. C. A., who for many years represented the British Y. W. C. A. on the Council. Of the 290 members registered for the conference in Spokane, there were half a dozen Californians in attendance. Mrs. J. W. Brown of Pasadena, member of the National Y. W. C. A. committee was one of the Southland delegates. Countries represented were United States, Canada, New England, New Zealand, Japan, China, India, Philippine Islands, Burma, Holland, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland.

Miss McFadden will give her report of the conclave at a meeting of Santa Ana Y. W. C. A. to be held in the near future.

Eight Girls Entertain
At Colorful Party

One of the merriest groups of young people to celebrate Halloween with a party at the Deardorff-Thomas barn was formed by guests assembling Monday evening in response to invitations issued by eight hostesses.

Responsible for the affair were members of a little club, the Misses Glenna Jean Deardorff, Margaret Ann Rosset, Peggy Wentz, Vera Head, Betty Rutledge, Marjorie White, Thelma Rogers and Nellie Vogelzang. They were joined by a large group of guests, so that more than 30 young people took part in festivities.

A harvest moon which is part of the decorative scheme in the barn lent special charm to the hours of dancing, for which recorded music was provided by Forest Menzies and Dick Kendall. Fortune telling added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Pumpkins surrounded by autumn leaves centered a long banquet table which was lighted by tapers during the refreshment interval. Horns of plenty completed the autumnal setting. Served with pumpkin pie and cider were candy and popcorn balls.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rosset, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Deardorff and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Head were chaperones.

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine. Wife of the sensational singing band leader.
ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.
ANNE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.
DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday, Weeks, the musician, demands a place in the band. Tait follows him away from the hotel and directly to Harris Rogers' apartment!

CHAPTER XXVII

APPARENTLY Harris Rogers had scarcely let the down-and-out musician into his apartment, for Tait heard their voices clearly just beyond the door.

"Why shouldn't I come here?" Tait heard Weeks ask. "I've been pulling chestnuts out of the fire for you long enough!"

"Of course, of course..." Rogers' voice was conciliatory. "But think of the danger, Weeks. We're on the spot. Can't you get that through your head?" Rogers stopped a moment, and Bob Tait strained at the doorway. "Is the girl all right?"

"Sure, she's all right. But I'm not guaranteeing you that she will be all right if you're going to treat me like a tramp just because I happen to come here."

Tait heard Rogers' voice come through the paneling of the door. It was a voice suddenly tight with fear and anger. "Look here, Weeks. If you harm that girl it'll mean the chair for you. Do you understand that? I've a reputation that will hold water—while nobody knows you from Adam. If you do anything to hurt Myrna Dombey I'll go straight to the police and swear I never saw you before in my life."

It was difficult for Tait to restrain himself, there in the hallway. Trembling in every nerve fiber, he held out against crashing down the door. Presently he heard Rogers say, quietly, "Is she still at the Belvedere?"

"Yes," George Weeks said. "You don't need to worry."

"How do you know she won't raise the devil and get you into trouble?"

Weeks' voice grew indolent. "Just to see how you're getting along, and whether you might not want to let me have a hundred."

"You'll get what you have coming when your job is finished. You'd better get back to the Belvedere and see that the girl is all right. What's wrong with you, Weeks? Have you been drinking?"

Again that morose chuckle. "No, Rogers. But it might interest you to know that I'm going to be featured tonight with The Swingateers."

"What—what do you mean, you fool?"

"I mean that I'm going to play 'The Cat's Meow' in a feature spot. And what's more, a song publisher is going to give me ten thousand for the rights to a new song I wrote."

Tait heard the shuffling of feet behind the door. He could visualize Harris Rogers excitedly grabbing the lapels of Weeks coat. "Look here, you idiot! Stop babbling! What have you been monkeying with The Swingateers for? And what new song did you write? You couldn't make a tune that would set Mother Goose to music!"

"They think I can, though," Weeks said. "And what's more, don't forget they believe I wrote 'The Cat's Meow.'"

ROGERS' voice was choked, maniacal—and Bob Tait waited to hear no more. He fled, literally, fearing that within the next moment George Weeks would be catapulted out that door by an insanely angered Harris Rogers.

Too, he had another goal in mind. Downstairs at the curb he hailed a taxi. "Do you know of a hotel or apartment called the Belvedere?"

The driver cogitated a moment. "There's a hotel by that name on Laurel street."

"Is that the only one you know of by that name?"

"Yeah. I don't know of any other."

"Then let's get there as quickly as you can. There's a healthy tip in it."

frame structure with a cheaply painted sign on the front giving the price of rooms by the night and by the week. He nodded, handed the driver a bill. "There'll be another one of those if you'll hang around a while."

"It's all your show, Cap," the driver said.

Almost inside the doorway Tait was stopped by a frowsy, gray-haired woman who wanted to know his business. Beyond her was a small and battered desk and on it a hotel register. Two rocking chairs comprised the furniture of the lobby.

"I'm from headquarters," Tait said. "I want to get into the room of George K. Weeks."

"Weeks?" repeated the woman, her face reddening.

"Weeks it is. And don't stall. If I don't get some action from you I'll take you with me."

Protesting bitterly the innocence of her person and her house, the woman led him to the basement floor. Fumbling behind her apron she produced a skeleton key and opened a door near the bottom of the staircase. "There you are," she said. "And you'll find nothing amiss with any lodger in this hotel."

Tait strode to the door across the room. "I want to see in there, too."

"I haven't the key to that," the woman said.

WITHOUT further word, Tait stepped back, then crashed his bulk dead against the flimsy door. The lock gave, shattering the door frame. Even as he pushed open the mangled door he could hear the woman's hurried steps on the stairway. But he was not interested in the escape of the frowsy keeper of the Belvedere Hotel. He was interested in the forlorn figure which lay revealed on the bed in the windowless room. It was Myrna and as he entered the room she stirred faintly. When he went to her side and lifted her by the shoulders, she looked at him vaguely.

"Bob..." Her voice was weak. Plainly she had been doped, either by Weeks or by the vile stuffy air of the room.

"Let's get out of here," Tait said. "Can you make it?"

She nodded slowly. "I—I feel so weak, Bob."

He took her by the shoulders, lifted her to her feet. When her knees seemed to give way he lifted her in his arms. But no sooner had he started toward the door than he saw the tall, hulking frame of George Weeks. And in his hand was a gun!

ARMSTRONG TO FIGHT GARCIA NOVEMBER 25

BY JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK—Was it the lip or the back that caused postponement of tonight's scheduled welterweight title fight between Champernowne Henry Armstrong and Ceferino Garcia until Nov. 25?

Armstrong, who wore the "iron mask" to protect his spongy lip during training for the bout, suffered a back injury yesterday in his last limbering exercises at the Hippodrome. So the scrap was postponed until the day after Thanksgiving.

A back injury was the explanation Max Schmeling used after his first round knockout by Joe Louis. Schmeling's physicians used virtually the same terminology in describing the injury as did Armstrong's; sacro-lumbar joint—at the junction of the spine and pelvis. Schmeling's injury was on the left side while Henry's was on the right, and Maxie's was a partial fracture of the joint, whereas Armstrong's was merely a "separation." The separation would keep him out of the ring only for three weeks, whereas the fracture might mean months.

What specialist could declare with certainty that there was nothing wrong with Schmeling—or Armstrong? None could.

Believe Injury Genuine
It is the conviction of some sane thinkers along Punch Promenade that both Schmeling and Armstrong were injured; particularly Armstrong. Reasons for such logic are these:

1.—Promoter Mike Jacobs is sure to lose by the delay. He loses a valuable date at Madison Square Garden, after a sellout crowd was virtually assured.

2.—Even if Armstrong had a lower lip still unhealed after the pattering in the Lou Ambers light-weight title fight, Promoter Jacobs would be better off if Garcia wrested the welter crown from Armstrong. Because he has a halcyon on Garcia if he wins the title.

3.—Armstrong's manager, Eddie Mead, was depending upon tonight's slated fight to pull him out of a financial hole. Rotund Mead is one of the quickest men with a dollar ever to hit the big time. He not only is broke; he is in debt to Promoter Jacobs. It is said Mead wanted the fight tonight.

4.—Garcia and his manager, George Parnassus of Los Angeles, were the most disappointed persons in New York when the fight was delayed. Garcia was trained to peak performance. He was confident of knocking out Armstrong and winning the title. Yesterday he cooled exactly 147 pounds, the welter limit. He intends coming in at 145 or 146.

—The only person who could have benefited by the postponement was Armstrong, himself. And he evaded an issue.

Well, It's Settled At Last - With Seabiscuit Way Out In Front

The race-track argument of 1938—which is the best horse?—was settled finally at Pimlico track, when Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit beat the finish of the mile and three-sixteenths race before 45,000 fans, with the famous War Admiral by four lengths in their special match. Here's Jockey George Woolf on the winning horse from California.—Acme Telephoto.

BALTIMORE, Md.—A sketchy log of the Seabiscuit-War Admiral race from the moment a pair of glasses picked them up leaving the barn until the 'Biscuit's red hood hit the finish line.

The Admiral was the first to leave his quarters, and he sauntered leisurely across the infield...the Biscuit followed him by two minutes, swathed in a blanket as red as a nose bleed...the Admiral drew two cheers to Seabiscuit's one when they followed their lead ponies across the track and passed through the gate to the paddock...the customers' money was on War Admiral and they wanted him to know it...an equine Emily Post could not have behaved better in the paddock than the two rivals...when they bugle blew Seabiscuit fell in behind War Admiral and they marched on to the track as sedately as Grandma and Grandpa walking to church on a Sunday morning...

Drizzle Halts Jaycee Drill

Rounding up about half a squad in a last-minute practice call Coach Bill Cook sent the Don gridmen through a stiff passing and running drill on a water-soaked Municipal Bowl greensward yesterday.

Earlier in the day the Don coaching staff called off practice because of the morning drizzle which looked like it was going to continue all day. Consequently many of the Don gridmen went home in the afternoon.

One of the stiffest workouts of the week was scheduled today in preparation for the Riverside game at Riverside Friday night. Coaches Cook and John Ward stated that a general brushing up on plays and pass defense will continue this afternoon. The Bengals are expected to prove one of the toughest opponents the Dons have met this season despite their defeat by three Eastern conference teams. Chaffey, Fullerton and San Bernardino defeated the Bengals 2-0, 7-6 and 6-0, but scout reports indicate that Riverside, with a little luck, might have won all three.

SAINTS HARD AT WORK FOR REDLANDS
Hard at work for Friday's game with Redlands high school at the Municipal Bowl, Santa Ana's Saints took time out today to prepare a defense for Redlands' passing plays. Coach Bill Foote is satisfied his "new line" will be able to cope with the Terriers' running plays.

Indications are that Coach Foote will start Bob Pollard and Bill Was, ends; "Chuck" Pride and Bob Webb, tackles; Ray Mercado and Don Dunning, guards; Ralph Barnes, right half and Aureo Orozco, full.

GRIDDER QUILTS TO JOIN CULT
HANOVER, N. H. (UP)—Classmates of Harrington Gates, backfield player, on Dartmouth's undefeated football team, said today that the reason he withdrew from school and joined a religious cult probably was that he objected to the "commercialism of college football" and to profanity he heard in the dressing rooms.

Gates, 24, a student from Saugus, Mass., disappeared from his room here Sunday shortly after he returned with the team from New Haven where it defeated Yale Saturday. He was found yesterday at the colony of the "Legion of God," at Amherst.

He had been traced through a letter of resignation received by Dean Lloyd Neidlinger. The dean, accompanied by two of Gates' closest friends, went to the colony to plead with him to return and complete his senior year at the university. Gates refused, saying he feared he could not resist the temptation to play football again, the dean reported.

Gates had joined the cult in his sophomore year, two years ago, but he had not let religious scruples against football interfere with his playing until now. He was a star of the team during his sophomore and junior years. This year he decided to give up the game. He did not report for practice until last Wednesday, during height of training for the Yale game.

Coach Earl Blaik, fearing that other players might resent Gates' joining the team at that late date in the season, polled them on the subject. All the players were enthusiastic on accepting Gates.

More than 5000 persons watched the 118-pound titleholder give a disappointing exhibition against the ring-wise midwesterner. Hook, throwing hooks and uppercuts in an unceasing barrage, won seven of the 10 rounds.

The first sign of nervousness on the part of anyone directly concerned with the race came just as the Biscuit walked on the track...at this point George Woolf, Biscuit's jockey, reached up and unbuttoned the neck of his blouse...keyed up, tense, George needed a little fresh air...Seabiscuit was the next to show tension...after walking slowly past the grandstand the California horse broke into a gallop and ran on around the turn and deep into the backstretch...War Admiral paid no attention, and proceeded to the starting line at a funeral pace...the crowd twice roared "they're off!" before they actually were...the first false start came when Seabiscuit jumped the gun...the second time it was the Admiral who tried to gain a step...

They were off the third time, with Woolf beating the Biscuit viciously for the first sixteenth...they came past the judges' stand the first time around with the Biscuit a full length in front and Woolf riding the hell out of him...Kurtzinger gave one the impression of a general reviewing his troops as he flashed by, so easily was he riding. The Biscuit's backers, scarcely able to believe that their hope was outfooting War Admiral so early in the race, shook the stands and earth with their exultant whoops...they continued to yell until shortly after the backstretch was reached when the Admiral's followers greeted the burst of speed that brought him level with Seabiscuit.

For mid-way in the backstretch, back where the barns are, until the top of the stretch that leads to home, the two horses might have been one, so closely did they hang together...they could have blown their noses on one handkerchief, read from the same book, so snugly did they stay side by side...it was in this tremendous drive of nearly half-a-mile that each tried to break the heart of the other...and in all the crowd of 40,000 there wasn't one person who could have felt sure of who was going to win...they pounded into the turn that leads to the stretch, dust flying, jockeys whipping...still locked together as tightly as Siamese twins...the top of the stretch...three sixteenths of a mile to go...and slightly uphill...

The race actually ended there...because of a sudden, without warning, Seabiscuit, tough as Gibraltar, turned on a little more power...War Admiral faded...the 120 pounds of lead he carried became a two-ton safe, a back-breaking load, and he lost his speed...the 120 pounds was a bunch of feathers to Seabiscuit, accustomed to weights of 130 and more...the Biscuit went a head out front...then a neck...then a length...then another length, until finally, he was running loose, four lengths to the good...That's when his red hood hit the finish line.

LIONS CLUB GIVES DONS FOOTBALL WATER-CART
Thanks to the Lions club, Santa Ana's football squad is going to have one of those big-league water carts the next time they play. This will be the Chaffey game November 11.

Light and portable, the gadget is fashioned after those you see at Pacific Coast conference games. It will be the first owned by any junior college team...at least in the Eastern conference.

Equipped with pressured water tanks and hoses, the cart insures players of clean water continuously, either for drinking or spraying purposes.

Most important use of the cart. Lion Committeeman Dale Deckert points out, will be at practice sessions...although the machine is light enough to take to all games away from home.

The cart is now under construction here.

Crack-of-the-week: (by Ace Reporter George Hart after listening to Clem McCarthy's broadcast of War Admiral-Seabiscuit race). If I were those horses I should refuse to run a step with that guy at the microphone.

Perplexing questions: What Jaycee backfield star spent Halloween night in the Laguna Beach bastille for rolling water-bus down hill into Laguna's business sector?...and what Dons are on the ragged edge with the faculty and will go the way of Ed Becker unless they snap out of it and crack the books?

Lions, Rotarians and Kiwanians are uniting at noon November 16 (Wednesday) to banquet both of Santa Ana's major grid squads, Jaycee and high school. The affair will be held at Masonic temple. The speaker has not been announced but committee men hope to line up Joe E. Brown.

MIDDLE CHAMP SHELLACKED IN FISTIC UPSET

BY WILLIS DUNIWAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SEATTLE—Paunchy Solly Krieger, the Brooklyn butcher boy who never seems to get enough to eat, was almost middleweight champion of the world today, recognized everywhere but in his home state of New York where a mass of red-tape bars his claim.

Solly knocked the daylight out of Al Hostak at Seattle last night in a 15-round match approved by the National Boxing association for the world 160-pound title. The NRA recognized Hostak because of his one-round knockout of Freddie Steele in July. The New York commission withheld recognition, however, because Hostak was not the No. 1 challenger.

Stops K. O. String
Nearly 10,000 persons saw Krieger halt the meteoric rise of the 22-year-old Westerner who had scored 17 consecutive knockouts. It was Hostak's first title defense, and fistic followers from coast to coast had been convinced, until last night, that Solly never would have been brought across the continent except as a set-up. But Krieger took Al's Sunday punches right on the button and kept dealing out more than his share of the punishment.

Hostak followers were quick to blame his poor showing upon a pair of bad hands. His manager, Eddie Marino, claimed both of Al's hands were broken in the fight. They were badly swollen after the match and he was sent to Providence hospital to have X-ray pictures made. A preliminary examination indicated that Hostak's left hand might be broken, but there seemed to be no fracture in the right.

Krieger battered Hostak badly about the eyes, and the champion could hardly see in the closing rounds. It was the New Yorker's great body punches, however, that won him the vote of the two judges. Referee Rod Murphy called the fight a draw.

Hostak was the aggressor at the start and staggered Solly several times with short rights to the head. It was the first time Al had gone more than nine rounds. Towards the end he was very weak. In the 14th Krieger dropped him to the knees with a sharp left hook to the jaw but he was back on his feet at the count of two.

Steam Exhausted
Behind on points, Hostak tried desperately for a knockout in the closing rounds, but all his steam had been exhausted.

According to an agreement made with Promoter Nate Druxman, before the match, Krieger agreed to give Hostak first chance at the title under Druxman's promotion.

Although Krieger is only 26, he had been regarded as virtually washed up in the East. He had been beaten twice by Fred Apostoli, the San Francisco bantam who won No. 1 challenger recognition in New York by knocking out Steele while he still held the title. Krieger's weight rose to nearly 170 pounds, and it was only by an unceasing vigil that Hymie Caplino, Krieger's manager, made his man work down to the middleweight limit for this fight.

YUKON JAKE, ORTH GRAPPLE THURSDAY

Promoter "Bud" Levin of the Orange County Athletic club has arranged a wrestling card for next Thursday night that features two of the "nightmares" of the game, Yukon Jake and "Tarzan" Paul Orth. They are matched for a three-fall finish match.

For the second half of the double main go, also a three-fall finish match, Billy Raburn, the "Georgia Peach," wrestles Charlie Carr.

Suji Hayamaka, Japanese wrestler and one of the six men in the world holding the Black Belt for jiu-jitsu, meets Nick Bonzini in a one-fall, 30-minute match.

Jackie Nichols meets Klem Kusek in the 30-minute preliminary.

SAFETY FIRST
Ray Carnelly, Carnegie Tech quarterback, is not permitted to scrimmage in practice because he tackled so fiercely. He already has broken his nose a half

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

CLUB SECTION TOLD OF FLAG

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. C. L. Benson gave a talk on "The Mexican Flag" at a meeting of the First Economics section of the Orange Woman's club meeting yesterday at the clubhouse, one of a series of talks which are to be given throughout the year on flags of various countries. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

Plans were made for the program to be sponsored by the section at the regular meeting of the Woman's club November 7, when the Ladies' sextet from the Los Angeles Musical chorus will be presented. Tea hostesses will be the section president, Mrs. Sherman Gilgilly; Mrs. J. F. Lewis, Mrs. Alfred Leech, Mrs. F. W. Maroney and Mrs. W. H. Lowry. The committee appointed to have charge of decorations includes Mrs. W. T. Syester and Mrs. L. W. Hemphill.

Roll call was answered with information about household articles and food. Miss Emma Corson read an informative article on parliamentary law. Mrs. C. E. Smiley, Mrs. Henry Meier and Mrs. Clara Whitman were reported ill.

Plans were made for a Christmas party and exchange of gifts. Present other than the hostesses, Mrs. C. W. Coffey, Mrs. C. L. Benson, Mrs. Flora Smith and Miss Emma Corson, were Mesdames G. W. Wood, Laura Bowen, Blanche Campbell, George Smith, Frank Robinson, Will Rohrs, Minnie Whitney, W. H. Lowry, W. T. Syester, W. O. Higgins, Alfred Higgins, Alfred Leech, C. F. COUNCIL DELAYS ACTION ON APPLICATION FOR SEWER FUND

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—The city of Orange will wait to investigate details of an application for a WPA project to be made by members of the outfall sewer district having an interest in section two, it was decided at a regular meeting of the city council last night. All members of the council plan to attend the coming meeting of the outfall sewer committee at Anaheim November 9.

The funds would be used to install an entire new vitrified 30-inch pipe line from Talbert to the new settling basin. The line would be 3500 feet long and the cost to the sponsors would be $18,000. With $4000 available in state funds, the cost would be brought down to $14,000. It was explained by City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake, making the share to be paid by the city of Orange, $4900.

Held Discussion
Cities interested in the project are Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton and Garden Grove, La Habra, Buena Park and Placentia sanitary districts. During an informal discussion of the council it was stated that members of the council were of the opinion that in time a treatment plant would replace the settling basin.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that if enough other cities of the state participated in a proposed expansion of the state league of municipalities activities Orange would assume dues of $225 a year instead of the present dues of $150.

City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond was appointed to represent the city of Orange in an injunction action brought by Orange county against various cities to prevent them from laying sewage lines across public highways.

Mrs. Henry Lippe was paid $9.94 for oil damages to her clothing from a spraying outfit owned by the city. Councilman Hollis Shawalter asked for and was granted leave of absence until the middle of January. Reports of departments showed that City Judge F. E. Hallman had collected $457 in fines during the past month, $426.63 had been collected in business licenses, $49 in wheel taxes and $4 for dog licenses. The sum of $482.88 was reported as the balance in the library fund and $153.95 was collected by the building inspector, Frank Dale.

Social Held By Church Classes

EL MODENA, Nov. 2.—A merry Halloween party was held recently by the eighth grade, freshman and sophomore classes of the El Modena Friends Sunday school. The party was held in the church bungalow with the decorated bungalow with corn stalks, witches, jack o'lanterns and black cats. Lively games were played during the evening. Prizes were awarded to Margaret Barnett and Carl Johnson.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, sweet cider and red apples were served to the following: Patricia Stanley, Henrietta Purcell, Joyce Sloan, Frances Irwin, Mary Borchelt, Ruby West, Margaret Barnett, Elaine Dollard, Loretta Sondericker, Helen Burchell, Robert Stanley, George Buell, Carl Johnson, Carl Dotson, Elmer Konic, Jr., James Wannamaker, Jack Moore, Eugene Merrill, Herbert Wulff, and the teachers of the classes, Miss Dorothy Gray, Mrs. Margaret Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Koenig.

Junior Group To Meet Thursday

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Let's Talk Turkey" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Rosamond Church, home service director of the Southern Counties Gas company, at a meeting of the Junior Toastmasters' section of the Orange Woman's club Thursday at 2 p. m.

Table responses are to be a description of an interesting dish or menu. The committee in charge will be Mesdames Alex Chastain, William Kolkhorst, O. Kemper Anderson and Robert Campbell. Mrs. Lloyd Baker is to be toastmaster.

Program Held By B. and P. W. Group

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Roland H. Upton, superintendent of schools of Buena Park, spoke at the meeting of the B. and P. W. club at the Orange Woman's clubhouse Monday night. Upton discussed the amendments to come before voters at the coming election.

Melba Chandler presided and announced that a sum of money had been given toward the Y. M. C. A. fund campaign and membership taken in the Orange Community Chamber of commerce. Inez Bertman, head of the legislative committee, was in charge of the program and assisting were Marjorie Thompson and Emma Pruitt.

Dr. Carl J. Paul spoke on amendment No. 2 on the ballot. Reports of the Riverside convention last month were given by Helen Gilgilly, Bernice Vestal and Florence Boosey. Miss Boosey announced a bulletin to be published for the club and to be presented at the next session.

A Halloween cake offered as a prize by Mrs. Bertman was awarded to Miss Leona Freeman. Lois Allen gave a program of piano numbers and Helen Gilgilly acted as song leader.

Christian Church Group In Social

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Hallowe'en was observed at the Dayton Ditch home, 421 South Orange, by the junior department of the Christian church. After a merry session at Hallowe'en games a group picture was taken.

Hallowe'en refreshments of candy pumpkins, apples and black and orange cookies were served. Enjoying the afternoon were Billy McCracken, Glenn Green, Leslie Wamsley, Elmer Hewlett, Leon Isley, Lawrence Cook, Donolo Andrich, Luane Foster, Melva Jo Caster, Billy Hewlett, LeRoy McBain, Jeanette Ashley, Ada Lois Lan Franco, Patricia Ford, Marian Andrich, Mary Jean Brown, Dorothy Caster, Eldon Williams and Stuart Ditchey.

Mrs. Ditchey, who is the superintendent of the junior department, was ably assisted by the teachers, Mrs. Jennie Conner, Mrs. Henry Pitcher and Dayton Ditchey.

9-DAY FLIGHT ENDS AS GAS TANK LEAKS

LANCASTER, Calif., Nov. 2.—(UP)—Three pilots who employed mid-air transfers for the first time to set an endurance flight record of more than nine days were to decide today on another attempt.

Their little cabin monoplane was forced down after 218 hours and 23 minutes late yesterday by a leaking fuel tank. The emergency disappointed Clyde Schlepper, Tommy Smith and Harley Long, who, after exceeding the previous light plane record of 136 hours, 10 minutes, aimed at the unlimited class record. This mark, of 653 hours, 34 minutes, was set by Al and Fred Kay, brothers, at Meridian, Miss.

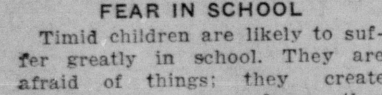

"Ham And Eggs" On Way Out, S. A. Group Votes

The "ham and eggs for California" proposition on the November ballot is doomed to utter rout if the secret ballot of the Public Affairs Council of Santa Ana is an indication of how the state will vote next Tuesday.

At the regular meeting of the organization last night at the Y. M. C. A., members and guests of the organization refused to cast a single ballot for the proposition.

Other Results
Other results of the balloting included a 65 per cent vote in favor of Proposition 1, the labor initiative; 88 per cent against Proposition 2, the pound control amendment; and 83 per cent vote against the single tax bill.

The council is an organization formed to investigate an discuss problems concerning the community, an the state and nation and maintains an impartial position on all disputed questions. The purpose is for study and dissemination of information on all public matters. President R. B. Newcom stated.

Our Children by Angelo Patri

FEAR IN SCHOOL

Timid children are likely to suffer greatly in school. They are afraid of things; they create fears within themselves; they cling to fears that other children know nothing about, and so stand in their own way. Teachers are busy. Schedules must be met. Supervisors know little about the individual children in classes and expect the class standard to be met and passed regardless. The timid child has a bad time of it unless there is someone on hand to help. This duty usually falls to the classroom teacher.

When a child who is starting school cries and clings to his mother and insists that she stay with him, the best thing to do, and we have done it at least once every school term, is to keep the child in the room and send the mother home. He will howl, maybe kick and fight to get out. The teacher stays between him and the door and gently, with kindness in her voice, tells him he cannot go until the bell rings. If it is possible to have an extra teacher in the room, that helps. The regular teacher keeps between the child and the door; encourages him; points to the happy children, who are smiling at this mistaken child who is afraid of school.

The teacher keeps calling the timid one's attention to the other children, who are at work, either under the leadership of the teacher or a good monitor. She asks a confident, assure child to help this one, give him a pencil and paper, or his reader, or take his hand in the march or the game. Usually before the close of the first lesson he is quiet. Sometimes he is taking part in the work. Always by the end of the first week he is one of the class. But, if his mother stays, or waits for him in the hall, or allows him to go home, he is through for the term. We rarely win that child back that term.

Some children are afraid to go outside the classroom. A helper who is a happy, well-adjusted child, should be sent with the timid one until he learns that there is nothing to fear. And there should be nothing and nobody in a school to make a child afraid.

There are children who are afraid of the teacher or the principal, or any one, who enters the school building. The teacher cannot help this condition at its source. The child was set in that fear before he got to school, but she can very soon win that child's confidence and trust so that his fear dies. So can the principal. If a child is afraid of either of them, and continues to be so, one might be justified in thinking that it might be their fault.

Parents could help some by taking care not to frighten a child about school by threatening him or her with the teacher and the principal and the other officers of the educational body. Better teach the children that they are going to find friends in these people. Better strengthen the child's faith in their goodness than frighten them with tales of terror. Gentleness, affection and understanding sympathy with firmness, cure the school child's fears.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1938, The Bell Syn. Inc.)

Woman Injured As She Flees Pair

Fleeing from two Mexican men, according to her story to police, Mrs. Margaret Trujillo, Evergreen street, ran into a barb-wire fence, cutting her right leg. She said the men mistook her identity and demanded admittance at her place. As they approached her, she fled. She said she would sign a complaint against the men. After officers gave first aid, they took Mrs. Trujillo to county hospital where several stitches were taken to sew up the wound and treatment was given to guard against blood-poisoning.

Marine Colonels Win Promotions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Swenson announced today the promotion of four Marine Corps colonels to the rank of brigadier general.

The new generals are: Clayton B. Vogel, Washington now serving as adjutant and inspector of the corps; Calvin B. Matthews, London, Tenn.; H. B. Smith, Washington, director of operations and training; Philip H. Torrey, Washington, in charge of eastern recruiting division at Philadelphia.

Swing Seen As Menace To U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(UP)—Prof. Harry D. Gideonse thinks swing music is a bad thing for the country. He told undergraduates at Barnard college:

"Swing is musical Hitlerism. There is a mass sense of 'letting oneself go'."

He said that the attempts of educators for detachment of emotion, the intense specialization of society and the habit of "spectatoritis" have led to emotional starvation. This, he concluded, opens the way for a dictator who will promise to give people genuine mass thrills.

SPENCER CONTROLS KVQE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The Federal Communications Commission today authorized transfer of the control of the voice of the Orange Empire Inc., Ltd., Santa Ana Calif., from J. S. Edwards, Inc., to Ernest L. Spencer.

JOY PROVES FATAL

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—(UP)—The joy of having her son return from a four year enlistment in the navy was too great for Mrs. Florence Nernberger. She died of a heart attack three hours after the son, Barnard Coggins, 22, returned.

Jimmie Fidler

seeing a serious subject treated seriously—just for a change.

Remember Carole Lombard's published wails about the size of her income tax? I wondered then why any star wanted that kind of publicity. And today, talking with a girl who works in the studio fan mail department, I found the obvious answer. Carole had been revealed in government reports as Filmtown's No. 1 money maker. No sooner were those lists published than she began to receive unpleasant letters—thousands of them, some begging, some abusing. Inspired by the size of her salary, legislators in three states introduced discriminatory tax measures against the picture industry. It was to escape the tempest stirred up by the report of her wealth that Carole publicized the amount she had to pay in taxes, and it was a clever defense. She is still receiving an avalanche of letters—but now, they are all sympathetic.

IDOL CHATTER: A sure way to bring a frown to Norma Shearer's face, is to call her the First Lady of Hollywood. Charles Ray isn't as immaculately dressed as he used to be but his step is just as jaunty. Impressions: Joan Crawford—grand opera in swing-time. Hedy Lamarr is the first real "It girl" since Clara Bow—but what a difference! Jimmie Cagney always reminds me of a bantam rooster in a flock of peacocks.

Peas in a pod: Wendy Barrie and Binnie Barnes. Since hearing Mischa Auer's tragic life story, I'm always amazed when he plays those swell laugh scenes. Nominated as the screen's most efficient coddler: Frances Langford. Odd—but some of the producers who hate Hitler most have the same complex. In-a-line descriptions: Mickey Rooney—Peck's Bad Boy—streamlined. Edward Everett Horton seldom exercises, but always seems out of breath.

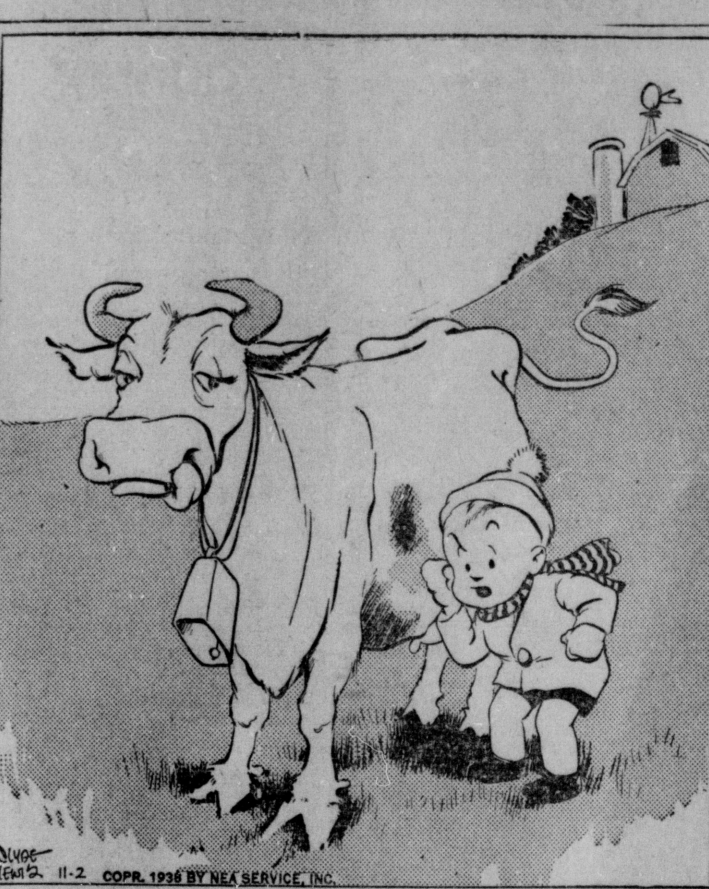

The better I know Edgar Bergen and Charles McCarthy, the more I'm amazed by the strange relationship between the two. Unquestionably, Bergen is jealous of McCarthy. He will not permit any studio publicity man to caption Charlie's photographs, neither will he permit any magazine or newspaper writer to invent quotes for the dummy. And his one and only loss of temper while he worked for Universal, occurred when he caught a studio worker holding Charlie on his knee.

Watched Jimmy Cagney working on location in "The Oklahoma Kid"—his first Wild West role, by the way. Between scenes one of the technicians, armed with a small caliber pistol, was popping away at tomato cans which he set up on a big oil drum. "Try it?" he asked, extending the gun to Cagney. Jim took it awkwardly, drew a bead and fired. And the tomato can, hit dead-center, whirled to the ground while everyone cheered. Noting that Cagney, despite his swagger, refused another shot, I drew him aside. "Truthfully," I demanded, "what were you trying to hit?" He grinned. "Confidentially," he whispered, "I was shooting at the drum!"

DIXIE DUGAN

What an ice-man was lost when Wayne Morris took up acting! Beauty and the Beast: Marian Martin, blonde and beautiful, screen romancing in the arms of Maxie Rosenbloom. The fact that Frances Dee can—and often does—blush puts her one up on most Hollywoods. Note to the advertising department: Betty Grable is the perfect model for those toothpaste posters. Wonder what Garbo says to Stokowski when she "wants to be alone"? Copyright, 1938, McNaught Syn., Inc.

STATE OPENS TWO TESTS FOR JOBS

Two civil service examinations open to men and women are announced by the state personnel board, according to Roy Ferguson, manager, California state employment service. A test will be given in Los Angeles on November 26 for junior deputy commissioner, division of corporations. This position pays $170 monthly with annual increases of $10 to a maximum of $210.

Active membership in the state bar of California is a prerequisite and age limits are from 21 to 39 years.

A temporary position of exhibit craftsman with the Golden Gate International Exposition also will be filled by competitive examination on November 13. Age limits are 21 to 50 years and the salary is $150 monthly. Further information blanks may be obtained at the office, 501 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

Kitten's Warning Saves Washing

NEW ORLEANS, (UP)—Happy, a six-month-old Persian kitten, basked in the limelight here after saving the family wash from a thief.

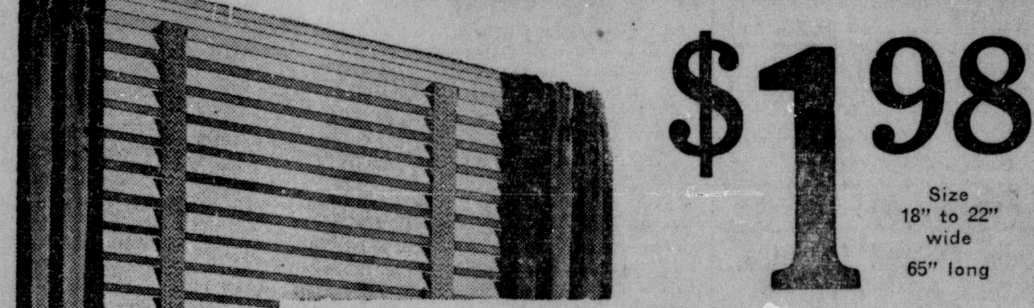

The kitten was tied to the clothesline when the thief entered the yard, cut the line and started off with the Monday wash. Happy ran into the house, bawled loudly and jumped up and down to attract attention. The maid understood, called police and the thief was caught.
